Challenging A New Frontier

Often in the course of history a group of people are called upon to do a great deed. They can be called in a number of ways, but answering the call of challenge is the most thrilling. Those designated to Southwood High School were presented with an undertaking of great magnitude. This was to transform a high school building into a successful, praiseworthy, and memorable center of learning.

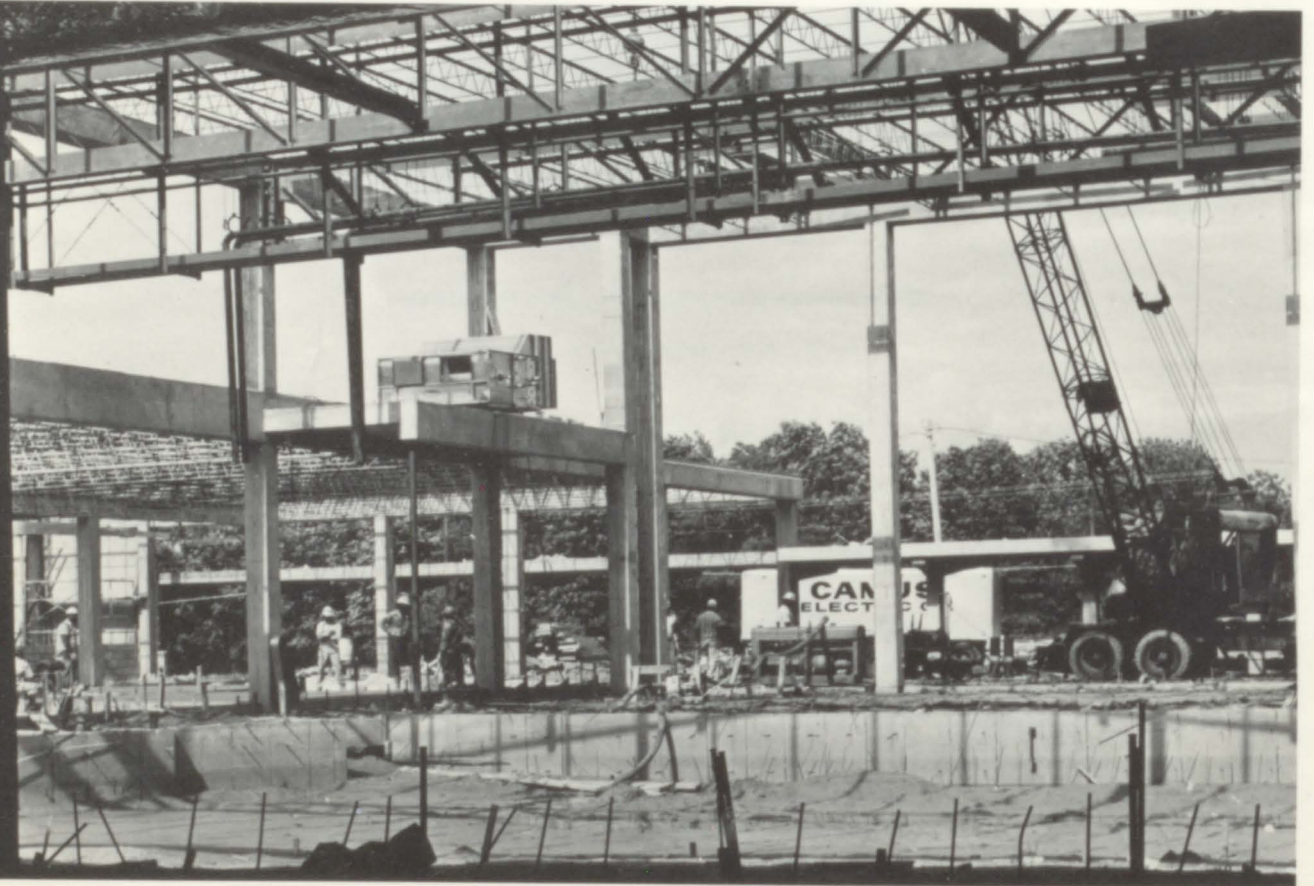

Of highest priority in a school is the learning process. The students must realize why they are attending school and how important their education is to their future lives. Academics were instituted well during Southwood's first year, as the students strived for achievement in scholarship.

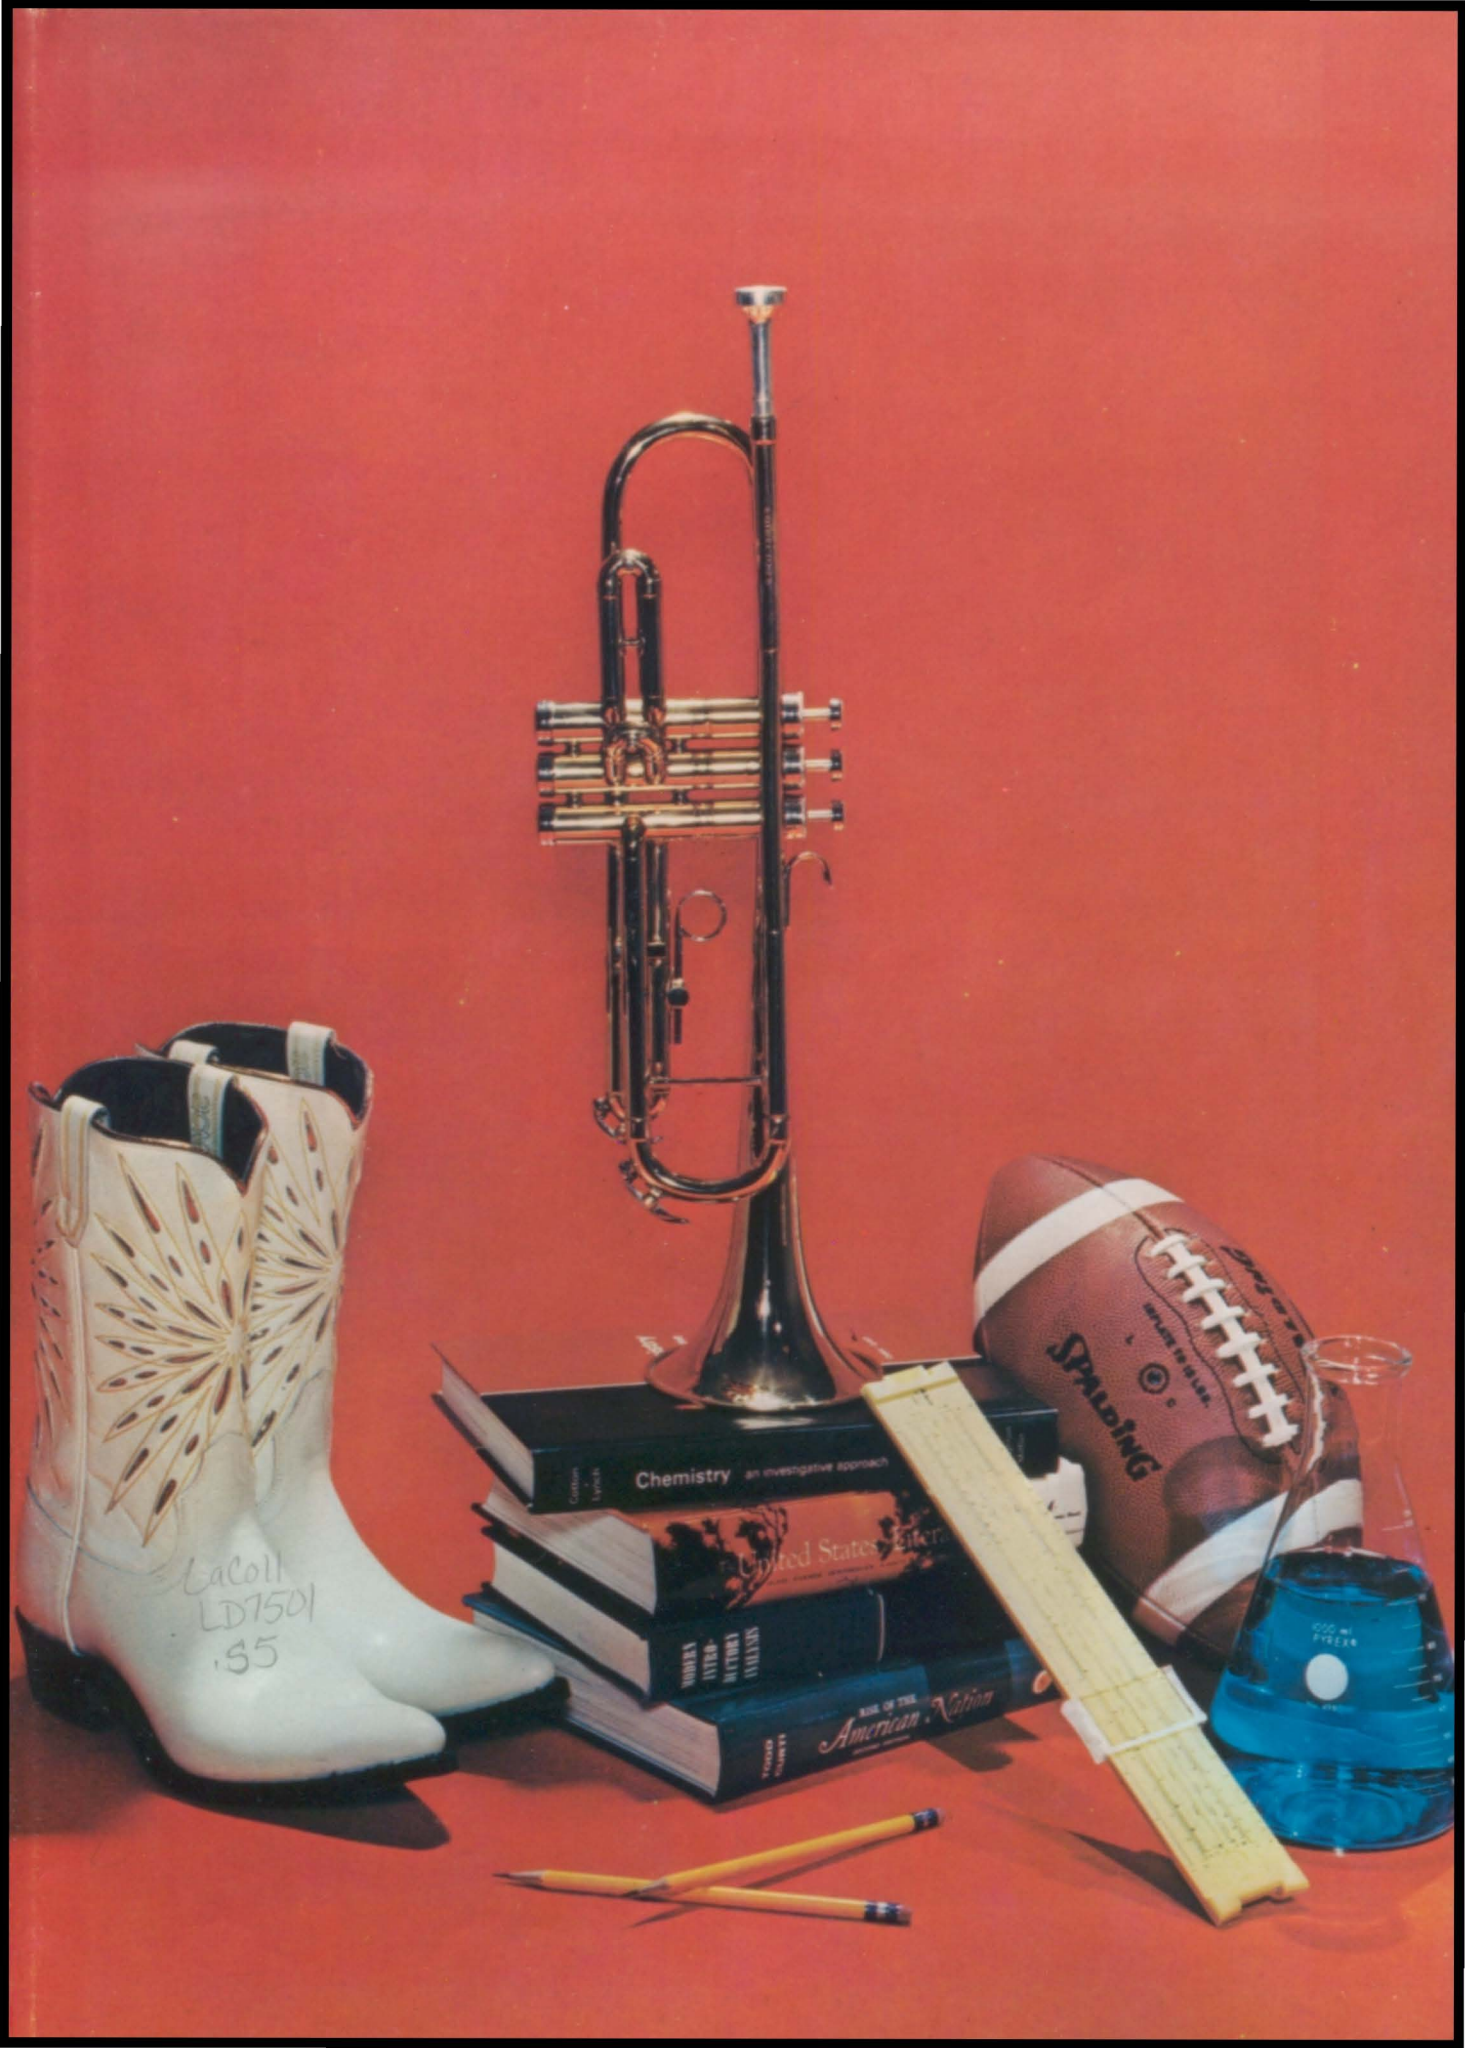

In addition to the numerous teams, clubs, and organizations, there arose a need for new standards and traditions that would make Southwood High School unique among other high schools. The senior ring, the school constitution, the alma mater, the coat of arms, the school colors, and the patterns of respect to God, country, those in authority, and fellow students are among the countless things that now exemplify Southwood.

The beginning of Southwood also meant the beginning of a new era of spirit and inter-school rivalry. Between times of hard work and attending classes, students at Southwood gave vent to an extraordinary level of spirit and enthusiasm. Spirit was remarkable for a new school, and participation in all facets of student activity was high.

Undoubtedly, the Southwood Cowboys have accepted the great challenge of this new frontier. Although begun with mixed feelings and the uncertainty of the future, their efforts have resulted in the successful culmination of this imposing task. The first volume of the Roundup will offer recorded proof of a great school now established.

Blazing The Trail To Knowledge

LEFT: Ricky Womack, Maleda McKellar, Wanda Boddie, and Kathy McLemore used the library as a ready source of information and a quiet place to study.

RIGHT: Christi Johnston studied and applied amazing consistencies in mathematics.

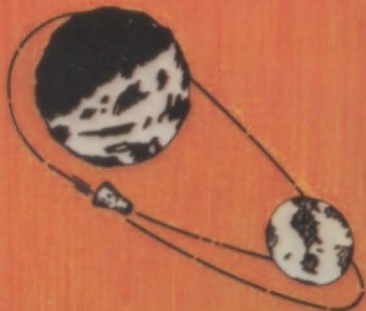

Establishing New Traditions

SOUTHWOOD HIGH SCHOOL

SPIRIT 1970 COURAGE

ABOVE: Spirit is always set at a high pitch when the football players run through a poster backing the Cowboys.

Spirit From The Beginning

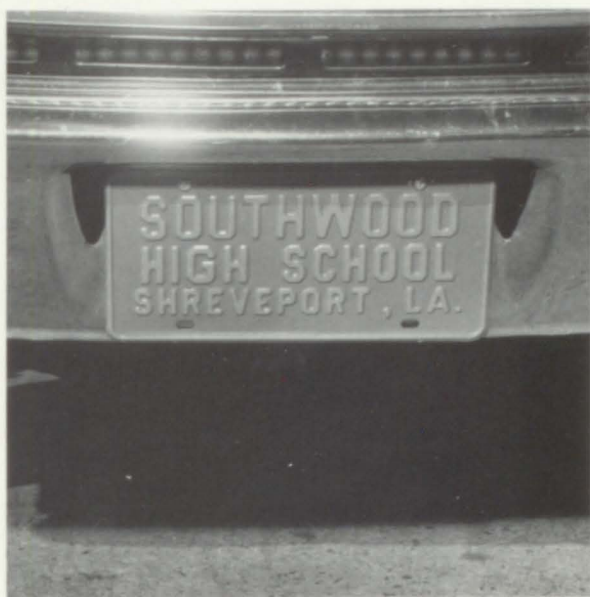

BELOW: Before the football and basketball games the campus was decorated by several spirit posters and banners.

LEFT: The Cowboys were backed by spectators.

BELOW: Students showed that they were proud to be Cowboys by displaying their Southwood license plates.

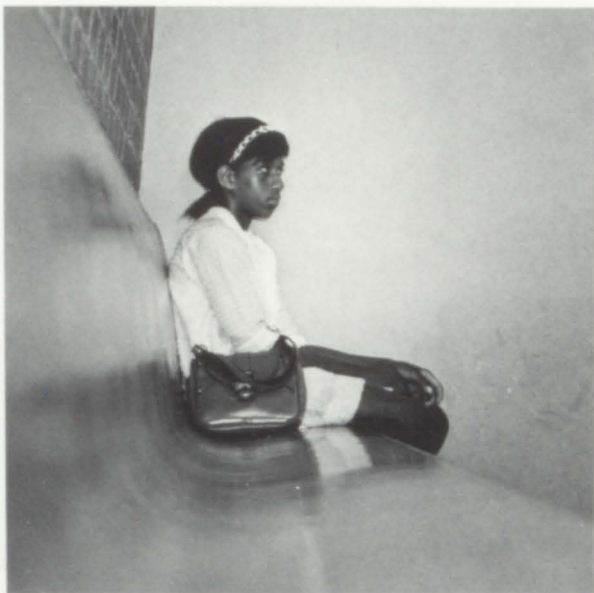

BELOW: The cheerleaders used skits to raise spirit, like this one showing a Cowboy who defeats a Fair Park Indian.

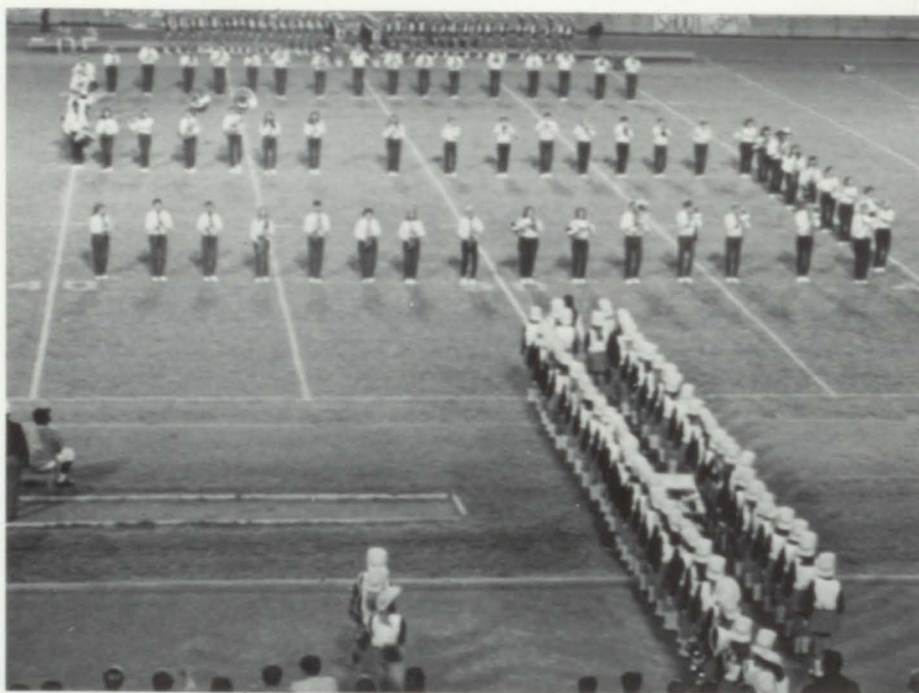

Badge Of Courage

ABOVE: Senior Dennis Jackson was elected as the first Buckaroo. The Buckaroo represents the Western style of life of the Cowboys as well as their spirit.

It's A Western World

LEFT: With the high values of the Cowboys in mind, others dream of the day when they will become senior Cowboys.

BELOW: Sammy Deeds and Charlotta Fincher reflect the rustic beauty of a cowboy and cowgirl in a Western scene.

BELOW: The Western influence on the footwear of students was evident in many more than a few instances.

ABOVE: Memories of students and all the year's exciting events come from looking through our literary productions.

Never Ending Horizons

BELOW: Senior Mike Ketcham ponders over materials that will suggest to him a plan for his future.

LEFT: Christi Johnson, as well as all seniors, enjoyed receiving invitations and making graduation plans.

Faculty

Dr. Turner, Principal, Determines Direction

When anything new is established, something or someone must determine the course of action that must be taken. With the establishment of Southwood, Dr. J. E. Turner set the direction that will be followed by future faculties and students of the school.

Dr. Turner is largely responsible for the smooth operation of Southwood as a new school. He devoted much of his time in working with the student council last spring. As a result of his careful consideration, the school can boast of a fine faculty as well.

Former principal of Woodlawn, Dr. Turner received his B.S. from Northwestern and his M.A. from LSU. After attending graduate school for four summers he received his Ed.D. from the University of Arkansas.

Southwood has won many awards already and many honors lie ahead. Regardless of what happens in the future, Dr. Turner has helped to establish the spirit and enthusiasm needed for the successful beginning of any high school.

BELOW: Conferences between Mrs. Martin and Mr. Hennigan occurred frequently in the school office.

Academics

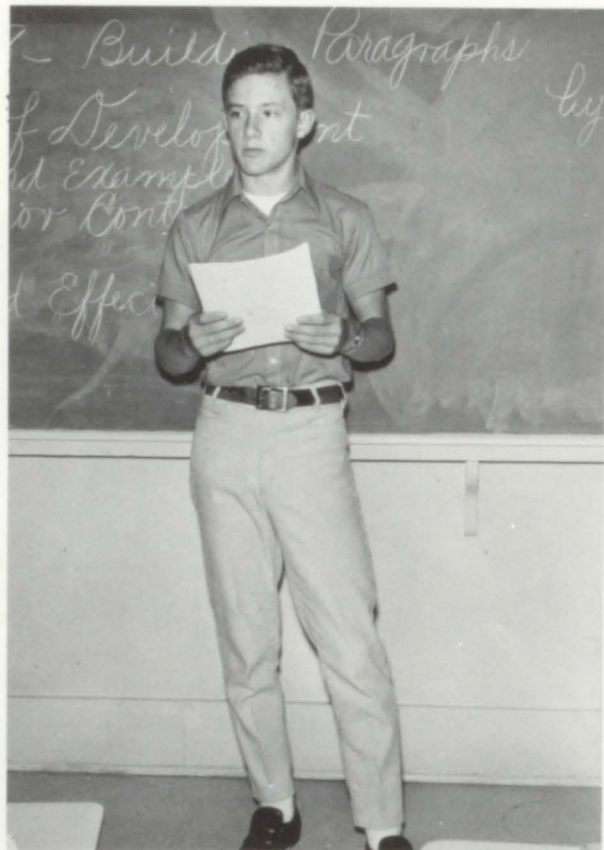

English Is A Language

Learning a speech from a play was not as easy as Sam Middlebrooks thought. Forgetting lines was not uncommon, so it was always safe to have notes nearby.

BELOW: Rick Ramsey waited for the students attention before giving his report.

RIGHT: Students are many times required to prepare a research paper. Sarah Nixon quietly worked on hers.

Full Of Excitement

English is one of the most important subjects taught in school today. Poems, short stories, and plays are covered. Julius Caesar and Silas Marner are studied in the sophomore year. MacBeth, Great Expectations, and Romeo and Juliet are other selections from English literature that will be studied before graduation. For variety a class may act out one of the plays they have studied.

When students begin looking for office jobs or jobs that involve working with people, they will be thankful for the knowledge gained through English classes.

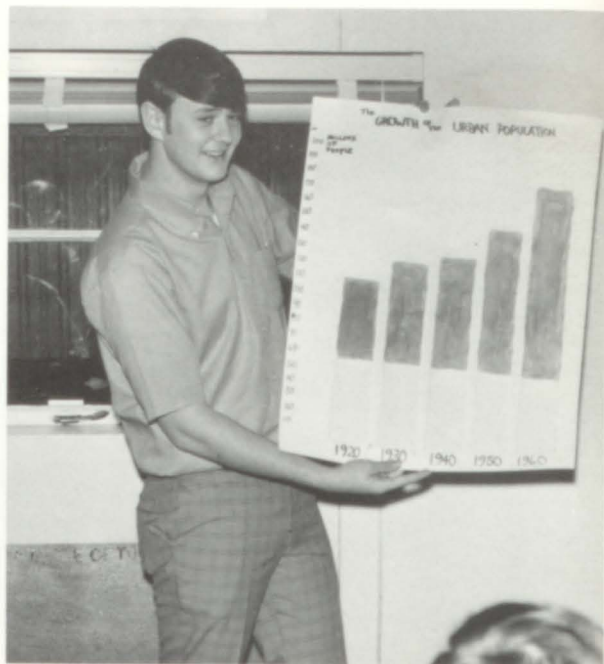

LEFT: Mrs. Dickens explained the importance of correct direct adjectives, before the assignment.

English was not all grammar and literature. T. J. Bauer, Brad Hart, Candy Roberts, and Kathy McGlasson participated in a debate before the class.

Social Studies Key To The Past And Present

Everyone has some interest in the past and history courses help students discover that part of the past they enjoy most. As history is studied, students discover the present is very much like the past. Studies in this course made the student aware of his responsibilities as a citizen and gave him a chance to experience leadership. Studying history also helps society to avoid mistakes made by earlier people. Students also learn the importance of the past and how it has affected their lives.

As the class studied the chart, Noel Graham explained the growth of urban population.

The use of new, colorful globes helped make the classwork more interesting for Judy Brown.

David Nelson examined types of land found in Africa on a new map in world geography.

Many projects were made to illustrate a time in history. Jennifer Elder and Barbara Cole examined a mobile as Connie Graham, Annice Belvin, and Teresa Littlejohn looked at the other projects.

Class participation in map work helped each civics student better understand his world.

Art — A Creative World Waiting For Discovery

Art opens up a wonderful new world of colors and designs. It helps students to develop their imagination and creativity. Young artists discover themselves and their talents as the year goes by. They are astonished at what they learn through this course: techniques used in sketching and the correct use of different drawing instruments. One of the most important things studied is shade values represented in assignments.

The course can be a vocation for some. Others list it as a valuable experience so if the need for knowledge gained in the course arises they can handle it.

Mrs. Simmons and Mr. Fitzpatrick often got together to discuss a project or exchange ideas.

Marie Wilson and Mary Reiland showed how working on an art project takes time and effort.

An art class would not be an art class if there were not a bulletin board. David Stockinger, Cynthia Berryman, and Mike Cooper put the finishing touches on this one.

ABOVE: Richard Hogan worked on free form designs using Tempra paint and imagination.

LEFT: T. J. Bauer listened to Lou Ann Hunter and Sandy Stowell as they discussed shade values.

Electives – A Chance For Skills To Develop

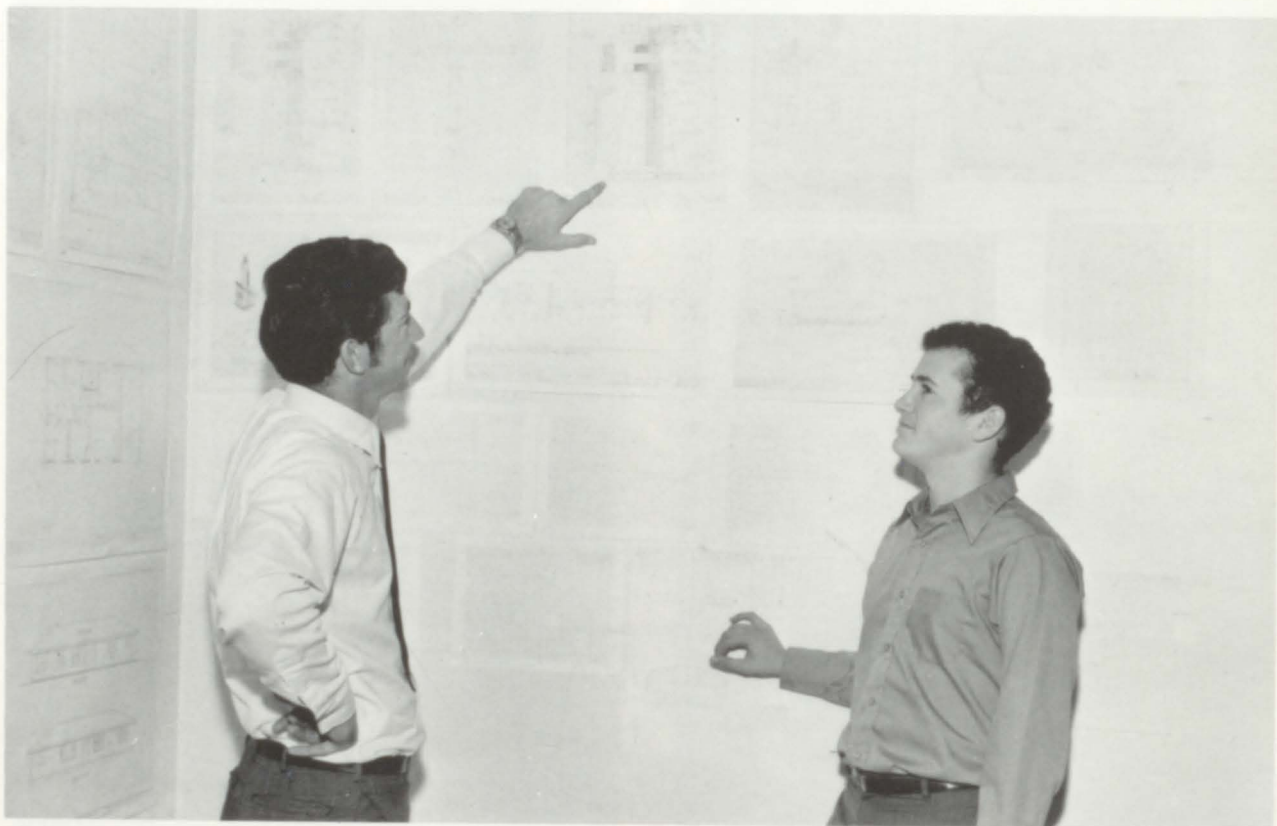

The electives Southwood offers are numerous. Some of these are home economics, electronics, mechanical drawing, and agriculture.

Electives help students explore different areas of work to find what type of work they are best suited for and which they enjoy most. Electives can also give those students who want it a general use of ideas that may prove helpful with their future jobs.

RIGHT: Creating and welding was not all fun; here David Nelson scours off a project he was making.

Much time was spent working on these plates. Phillip Lear talked with Mr. Baxter about essential components used to complete such a project.

Much work went into preparing a meal, as Vicki Bryant and Toinette Ericson got ready for lab.

Manners should become a natural habit. Jeanette Bison demonstrated the way to unfold a napkin.

Betsy Blankenship showed her class what she would choose when co-ordinating a carpet with drapes.

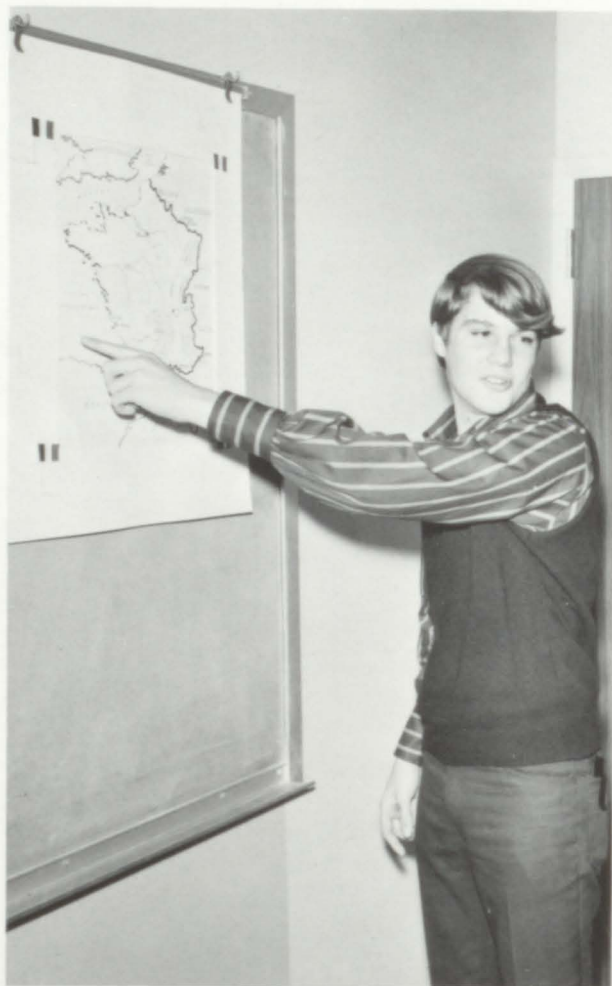

Mr. Ware helped Jimmy Bowman to set up a project to be turned in the metal lathe.

Language – Improving Social Communications

Language covers many subjects. French, Spanish, Latin, and speech are all language classes. The knowledge of a foreign language will help students to understand a culture different from their own. By studying a foreign language, students learn the derivations of many of our English words. They are happy to find that they already know some of the words since there are so many similarities in all languages.

In speech, students learn how to speak effectively before audiences. They learn speaking techniques and how to be tactful in a speech. These subjects will prove very helpful in later social and business life.

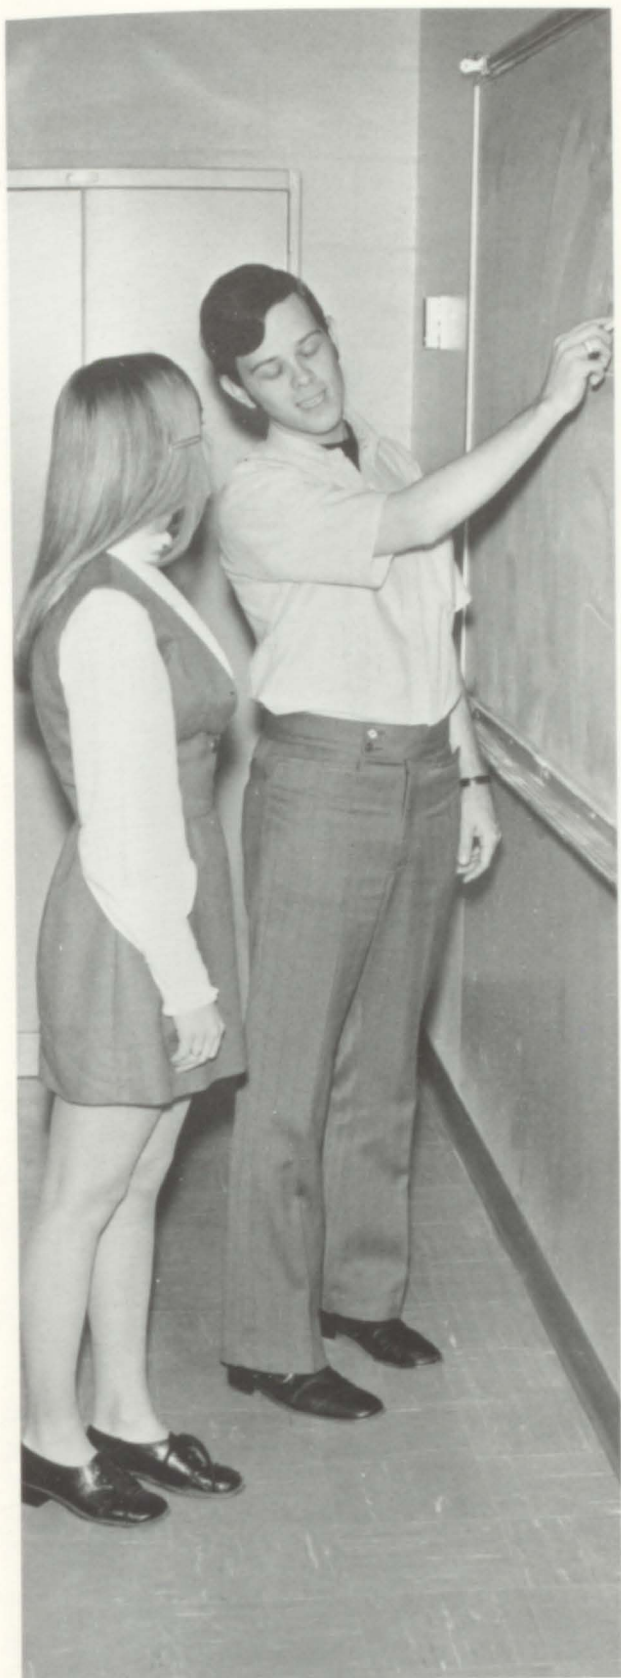

When French geography was studied, Bruce Juengling knew just where to find the Atlantic ocean.

Barbara Evans learned how to talk and act when giving a report in speech.

Miss Searcy and Dotty Bangs worked on a dummy layout. Even teachers need to refer to a book.

Science — Always An Open Door

Doors are open to any student who studies a course in science. There are many fields of science in which a person can choose to work. The excitement of discovery can be found in any of these fields. Physics and chemistry are the more advanced courses a student can choose.

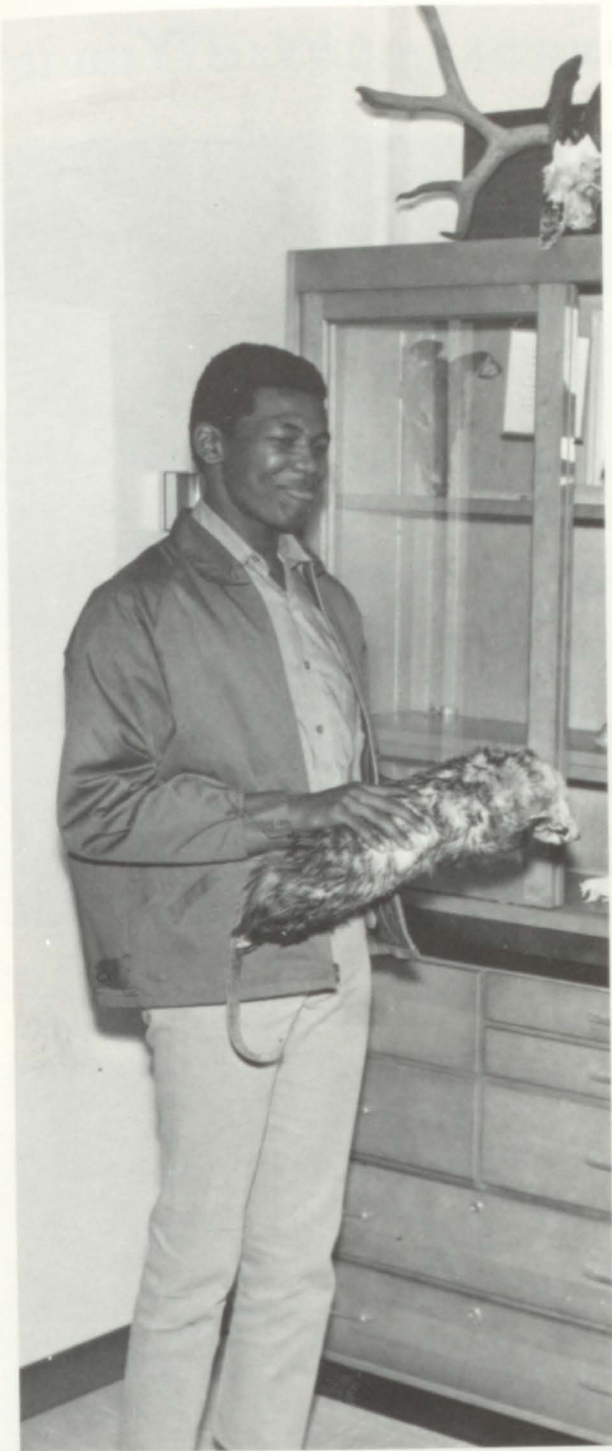

For those students not wishing to make science a vocation, this still is helpful in solving problems. Biology and general science help the student to understand the simpler aspects of the broad field. Visual aids, discussion and study questions and participation in experiments help students understand the course better.

TOP RIGHT: Measuring carefully, this student prepared a test tube for an experiment in chemistry.

Because of the balconies at Southwood, Bill Burnside and Mr. Whitman can study the weather easier.

RIGHT: Special attention was paid when Ruth Smith and Doyal Hunter determined a mass on the inertial balance scale.

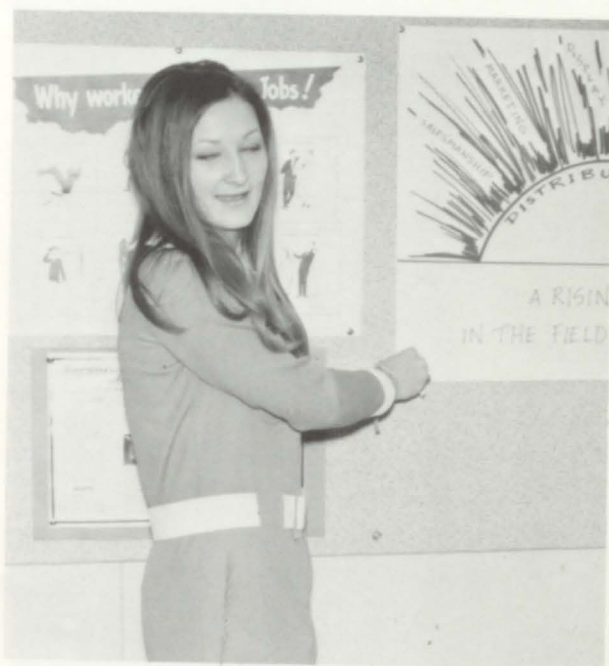

Business – Opens Young

Mrs. Boone tested her class on special journals. Bookkeeping begins to cover much ground as the year goes by.

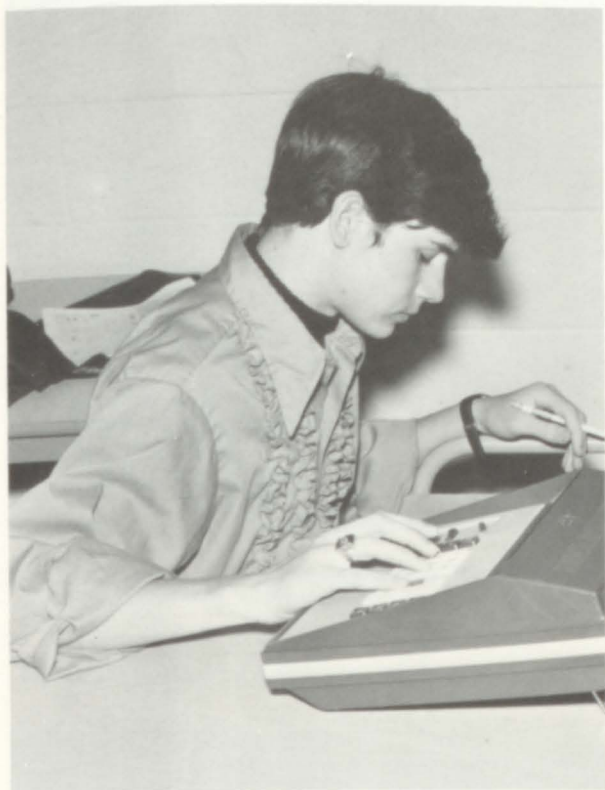

Susan McCoy needed good typing techniques, even in her shorthand class.

Clarice Wolfe pointed out some features on the retailing and merchandising chart.

Minds To Young Ideas

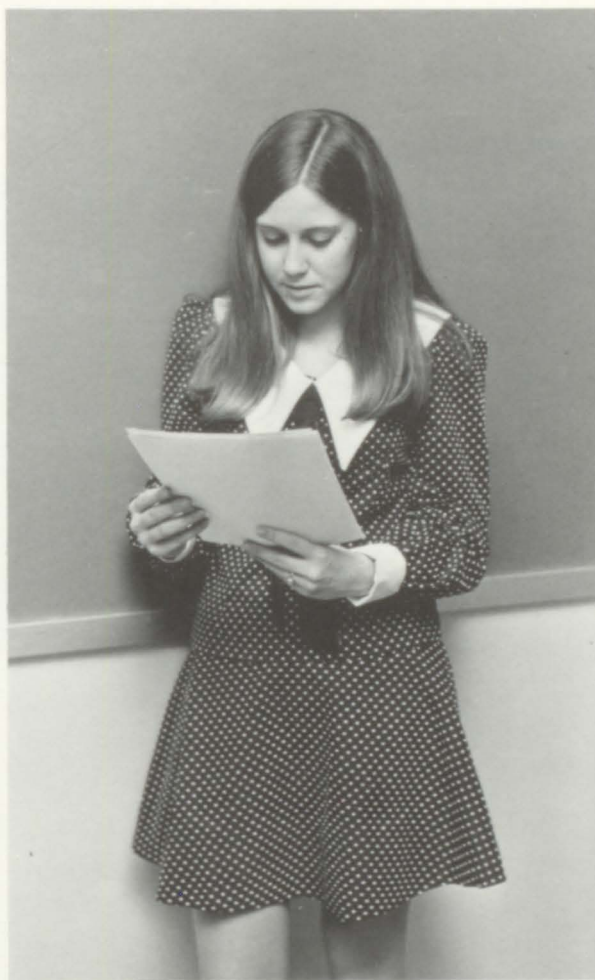

Roger Haak developed his skill in the use of the electronic calculator, one phase of work taught in COP.

COE students busily engaged in completing secretarial practice sets.

The business world moves at a fast pace, so if a student wants to make a place in it for himself, he will have to be well prepared. Typing, clerical practice, and D.E. are just a few courses designed to help prepare the student for a future that he will want. Many of these subjects may improve study habits even grades. All students should take some of these courses for fundamentals needed in future work.

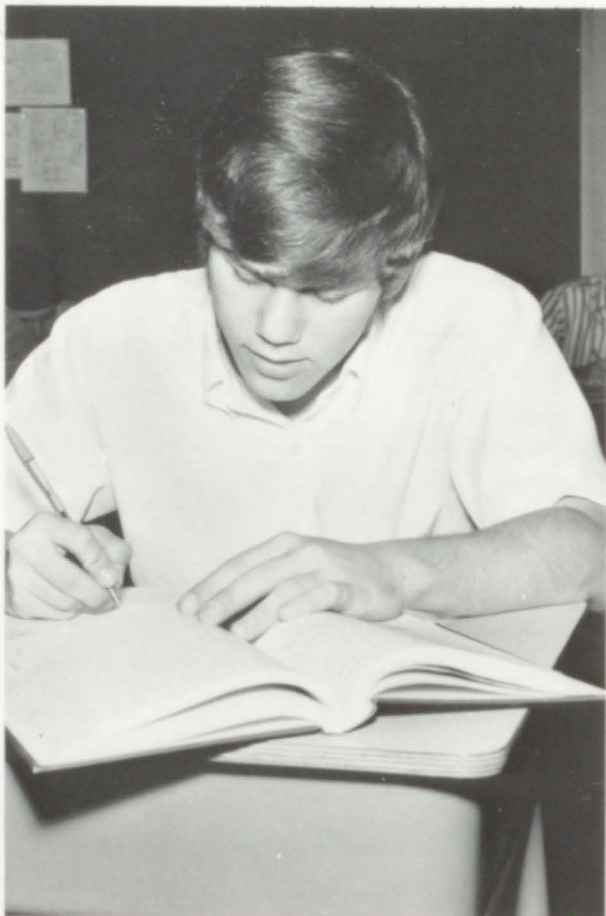

Becky Lacy checked over her manuscript for mistakes before she turned it in.

Math – The Answer To Developing Reason

Math is a subject that increases its reach each year, because it is a subject that has no end or boundaries for learning. Every student needs math for the future whether planning to be a house wife or math teacher.

General math and business math prepare those students who are not planning to attend college. They stress the fundamentals of math, while algebra, geometry, and advanced math deal with the most involved and intricate problems. They help prepare the student for college courses in math. Math holds a place in everybody's life whether realized or not.

Bobby Horner used his book in solving his classwork in advanced math.

Sandy Perot and Alan Susla looked as if they knew just what they were doing while working in Algebra.

Learning does not always come from a book. David England prepared this film in arithmetic.

Annice Belvin was ready at the board while Miss Jordan explained the proper steps of the problem.

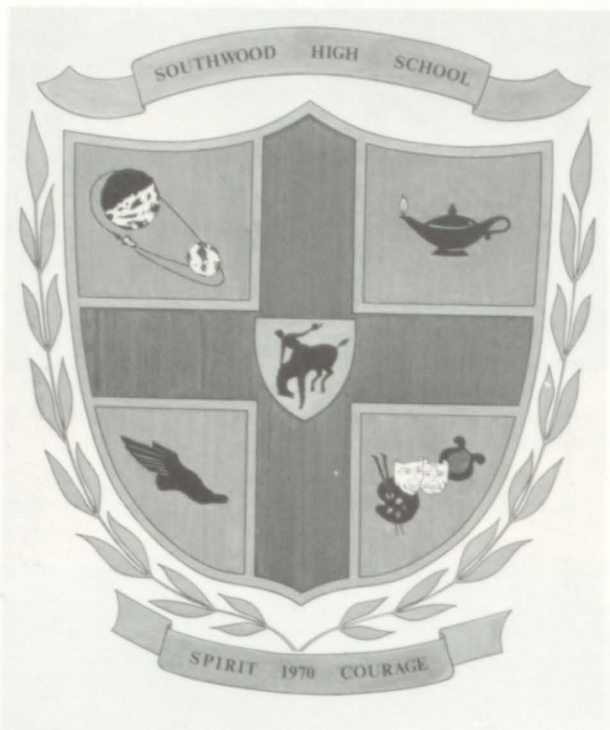

Steve Richardson and Sandy Thompson assisted Mr. Fuller in a demonstration to the class.

No matter how much protesting a teacher heard, he would still give a test, as anyone in this geometry class knew.

R.O.T.C. Establishes Military Excellence

The R.O.T.C. battalion's first year of experience was highlighted by several outstanding events. Parades, inspection and marching drill became a part of the weekly R.O.T.C. routine. In addition, the cadets learned about basic military practices and various weapons of the U.S. Army.

Extra activities included ushering at football games, rifle and drill team competitions, and a military ball in February. The climax of the year's events was the attempt for an honor rating in the annual battalion inspection by federal Army officers.

The year's R.O.T.C. activities were tragically interrupted by the death of Lieutenant Colonel Wm. Taylor. Lt. Col. Taylor had served as the Senior Professor of Military Science for several years at Woodlawn and later at Southwood. Lt. Colonel Taylor was primarily responsible with the establishment of Southwood's R.O.T.C.

Rifle Team Excels In Matches And Competition

The rifle team did an outstanding job in serving as an example to the R.O.T.C. battalion of fine marksmanship. Throughout the year, their long hours of practice on rifle ranges were highlighted by several major competitions. In addition to this, many rifle matches with individual schools were scheduled. As an award for their performance at these events, the rifle team was presented with a number of trophies.

The rifle team was advised and sponsored by Sergeant Harper. Serving as rifle team commander this year was Cadet Major William Gordon.

Rangers Perform Intricate Drill Routines

The Rangers practiced daily in preparation for their different performances and competitions of the year. These events for this year included a performance at the Football Court presentation and three major competitions in Shreveport, the University of Texas at Arlington, and Houston.

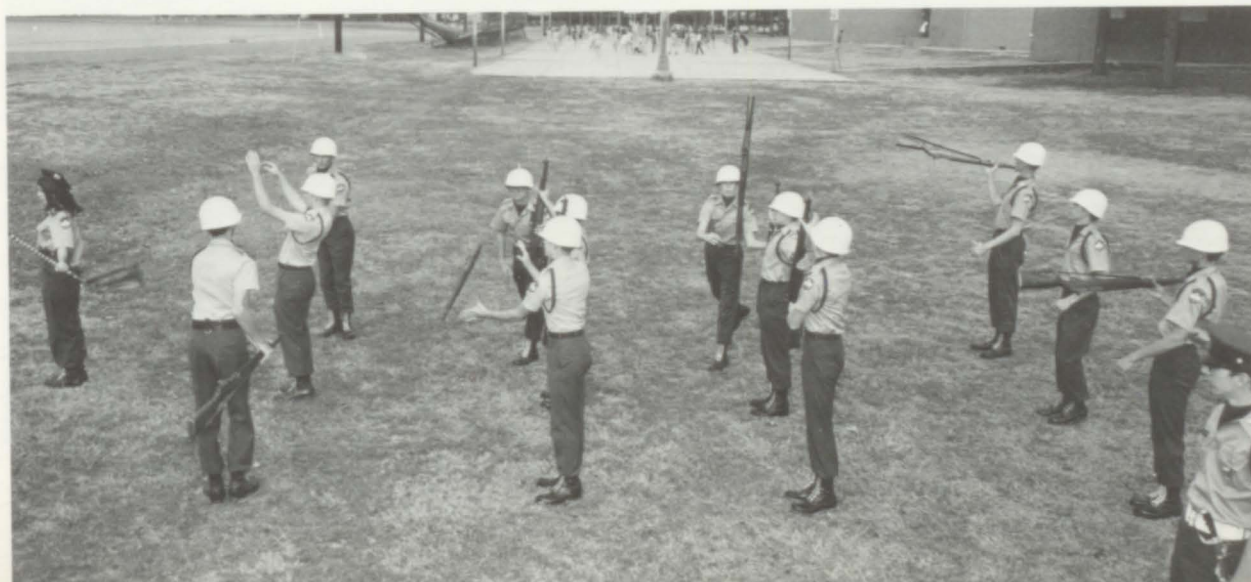

The Rangers' distinctive uniforms consisted of white helmets, khaki shirts, green ascots, green and brown cords, black belts, dark green pants, and black paratrooper boots with white laces.

The fourteen members of the team were commanded by Major Paul Breitzman. The drill team sponsor was Major Christy Johnston. Serving as guidonbearer and right guide were Robert Rodgers and Gordon Rucker, respectively.

The Ranger Drill Team served as an example of precision marching and rifle manual, teamwork, and self-discipline to the R.O.T.C. battalion.

Student Life

Student Life Focuses On Activities

A student experiences many activities such as classes, meetings, dances, ballgames, and homework which create many lasting memories.

Student life at Southwood High School is not only participating in a pep assembly or planning for social affairs, but the plain everyday things that constitute life at school — going to one's locker, doing homework, friendly talk in the hall, and waiting in the lunch line — all of this makes a student's life at SHS.

Honors

Two Seniors Elected First Miss And Mr. Southwood

Ricky Shirley is Mr. Southwood this year. A mainstay in the Cowboy defense during the football season, Ricky inspired the team and students with his zeal and sense of determination. He is a leader in school spirit, serving on the Student Council as an officer, and is also an active member of the Key Club.

LeAnn Svigel was elected Miss Southwood. Her never failing enthusiasm always bolstered the student body when they needed it most. As Head Cheerleader, she led a group of five girls who presented the students with great pep rallies and a sense of student involvement. The now established tradition of school spirit can be traced back to LeAnn.

Selection Of Beauties Climaxes Pageant '71

Eighty-one of Southwood's most beautiful girls participated in the beginning of a new tradition. The success of the first Pageant should encourage many more.

The tension and excitement could be felt as Friday night approached. The girls faithfully attended rehearsals during the week to insure the best possible performance.

The judges faced many hard decisions that Friday night. Finally, the top twenty were chosen. From their ranks came the top ten, top five, and at last the most beautiful girl, Queen Ramona Kelly was crowned on Saturday night.

Cyd Baker Reigns As First Football Queen

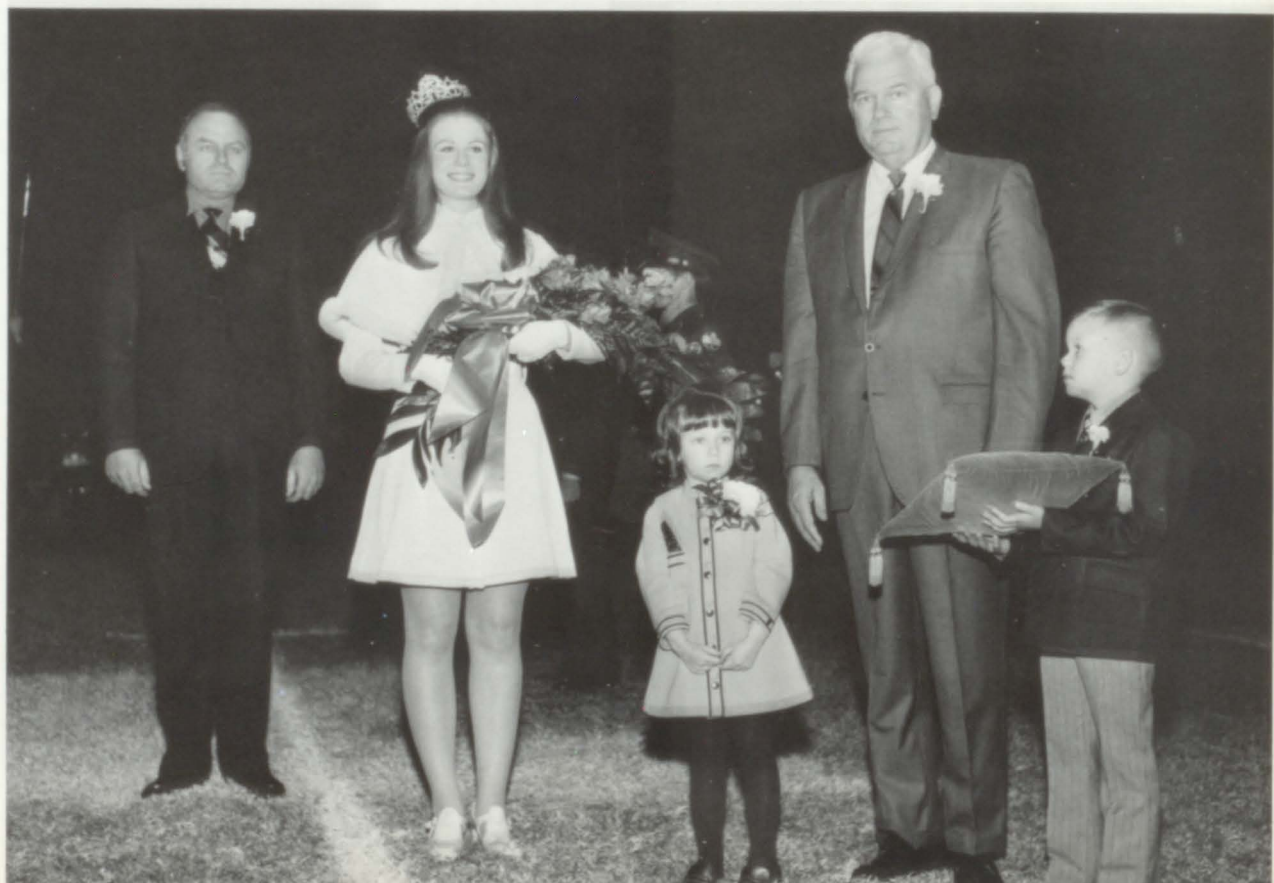

Friday night, November 6, the Southwood Football Court was presented to fans at the Fair Grounds during halftime at the Southwood — Fair Park game.

Accompanied by their fathers this year, eleven lovely young ladies walked one-by-one onto the field as the Southwood Marching Band played "Raindrops Keep Fallin' on My Head."

Cyd Baker, escorted by her father, then walked under the "Arch of Steel," courtesy of the Rangers Drill Team, whereupon she was crowned the first Queen of SHS.

The National Forensic League is a national club to promote speech competition. When a debater receives 25 points in areas such as debate and individual events, he is eligible for membership. As a person's points accumulate, he is given different degrees and more privileges.

Southwood Gains National Honor Society Charter

Being chosen for membership in the National Honor Society is one of the greatest honors that can be bestowed upon a student at Southwood. These students not only must maintain a 3.0 average, but they must also be prominent in the field of leadership, have good character, and render service to the school.

As an honorary organization, the National Honor Society does not undertake school projects. But each individual is an active, working, vital part of the organizations and clubs in which he officiates and works.

OFFICERS: Pam Anderson, Terri Upchurch, Colleen Porter, Levonda Camp, Thelma Ebarb, Miss Donna Searcy, sponsor.

The Quill and Scroll is a national honor society for high school journalists. Members are selected by the quality and quantity of work they have done for a school publication. The Southwood chapter of Quill and Scroll attempts to recognize individuals for their own talents and abilities.

Inductees are selected from the members of the LARIAT business or editorial staffs, the ROUNDUP staffs, or from the Football Program Ad Staff. They must maintain a high scholastic average, be recommended by the advisor, and meet the requirements of the Quill and Scroll Society.

One Attends Leadership Three Make Semi-finalist

At the LSU Leadership Conference, future seniors receive instruction in newspaper work, creative leadership and speech, with creative leadership probably being the most popular. Its objective is to make students aware of community problems and how to cope with them.

During the course of the school year, the National Merit Tests are given, and those students receiving high scores are classified as Semi-finalists.

PELICAN STATE DELEGATES: Mary Catherine Bounds, Cyd Baker, Sheryl Jackson, Ricky Carr, Robbie Bunch, Robert Ross, Steve Brown, and Robert Rodgers.

Cowboys Learn Fundamentals Of Good Government

To those select few who go, Pelican State is a unique learning experience. Students are educated in the many facets of the American way of life. They are not only taught the mechanics of government, but they are also active participants, holding offices and running city, parish, and state governments. By electing officials, passing bills, and other processes involved in government, they learn that our government is just what we make it.

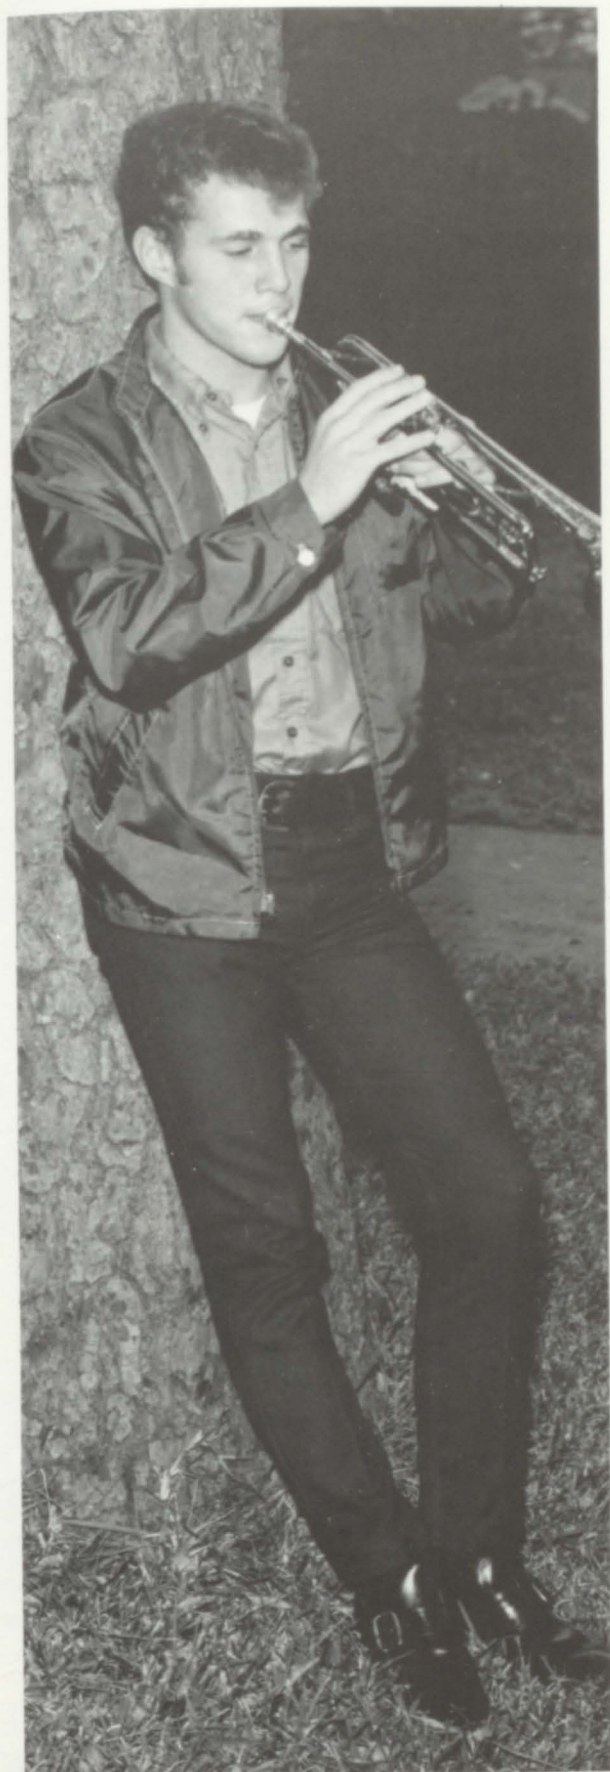

This year the Pelican State delegates enjoyed many studies in self-government, sometimes working late into the night on their various projects.

Although every day was filled with work, they enjoyed the experience and responsibilities that this particular honor required of them.

Southwood Cowboy Marching Band

Branded Pride And Tradition

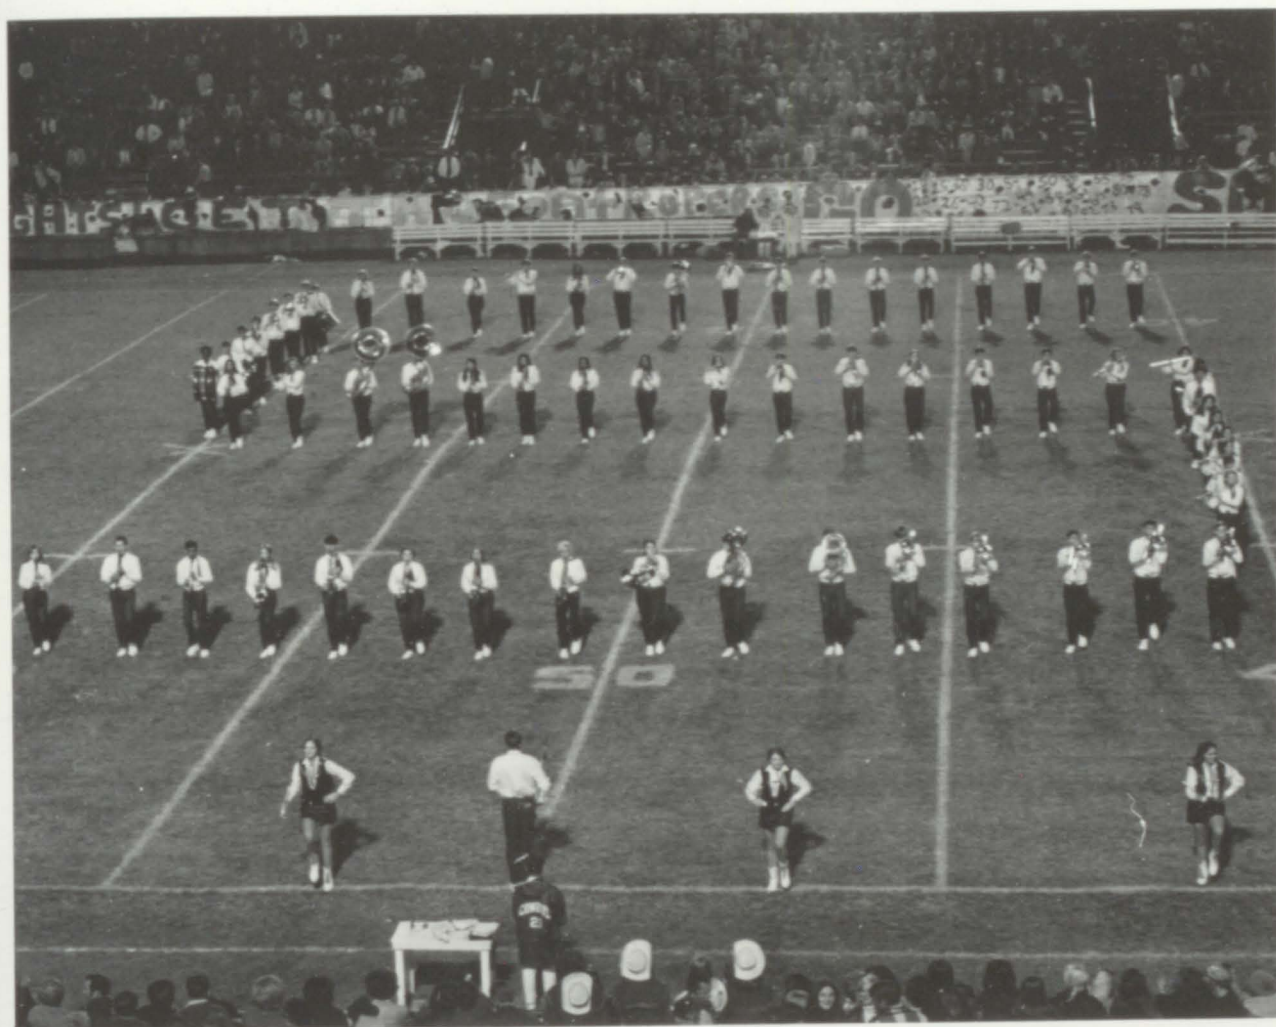

Stepping high to the music of "Bonanza," the Southwood Cowboy Marching Band was the highlight of half-time. The band marched at every football game and gained the pride and respect of each Southwood student. Three hours every day of marching and practicing throughout the summer and after school helped the band achieve its high degree of precision marching. Dressed in western shirts and blue jeans, the Cowboy Band represented Caddo and Bossier parishes at Band Day at Louisiana Tech in October.

The Cowboy Band marched in several parades during the year including the State Fair Parade, the Natchitoches Christmas Parade, and the Holiday-in-Dixie Parade. In the spring the band traveled to various festivals such as the Stage Band Festival at Louisiana Tech and the District Band Festival at Natchitoches. Many students participated in the Solo-Ensemble Festival at Natchitoches in February.

Mr. Leon Anderson, band director, devoted all his spare time to the band. A member of the Louisiana Music Educators Association, Mr. Anderson composed the Southwood Alma Mater and chose the theme of "Bonanza" as the school's official fight song.

Both student body and faculty agree that the Cowboy Marching Band is the pride of Southwood.

Concert Choir Performs At NSU

Southwood's Forty-One Member Concert Choir began this year under the direction of Mr. Melvin Simmons. During the year the choir performed at various civic functions as well as the choral festival at Northwestern. In February, several members of the choir traveled to Natchitoches to participate in the Solo-Ensemble Festival. Along with their extra performances, the Concert Choir gave a Christmas and Spring Concert for the public.

Two Members Receive All-State Choir Honor

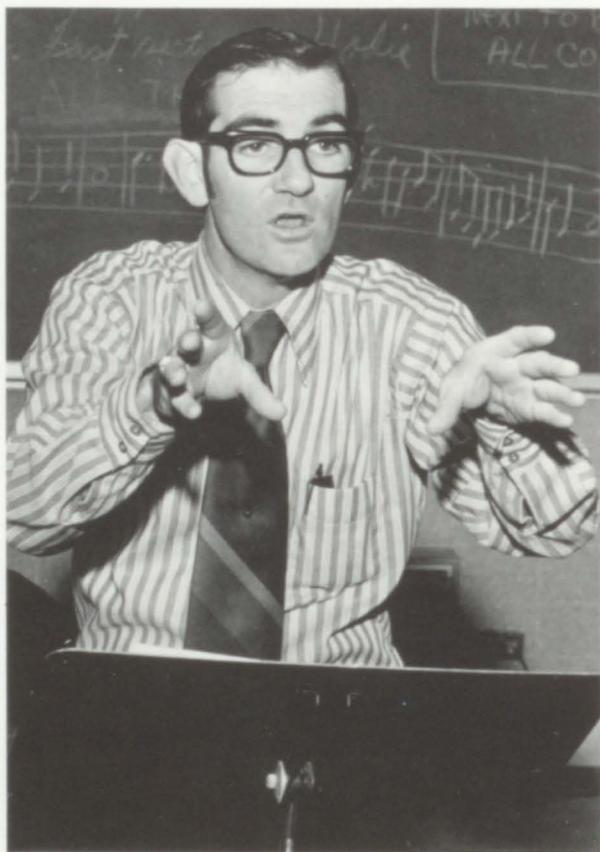

Neal Bostwick and Kyle Long, concert choir members, had the honor of being the first Southwood students to make All-State Choir. They were chosen in October to represent their district at the All-State Choir concert in November. Cowboys will always remember these two boys as being among the first to bring honors to Southwood.

Passing out and filing all music were the duties of librarians, Becky Walker and Norma Piper.

Mr. Simmons worked many hours with the choir in preparation for the choral festival at NSU in March.

Council Honored As Parliamentarian Of LASC

Southwood's first Student Council received many imposing tasks before and during our school term. The senior rings, elections, directories, football court procedures, dances, and many, many more activities which transform a building into an alive and vibrant school were undertaken and completed by our Student Council.

The purpose of the council is to provide a better outlet for student expression, besides the added benefit of closer student-teacher relationship.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Scott and Mr. Larance, the council participated in the Louisiana Association of Student Councils Convention and the Southern Association of Student Councils Convention and received the honor of Parliamentarian of LASC.

LARIAT Captures Memorable Moments For Cowboys

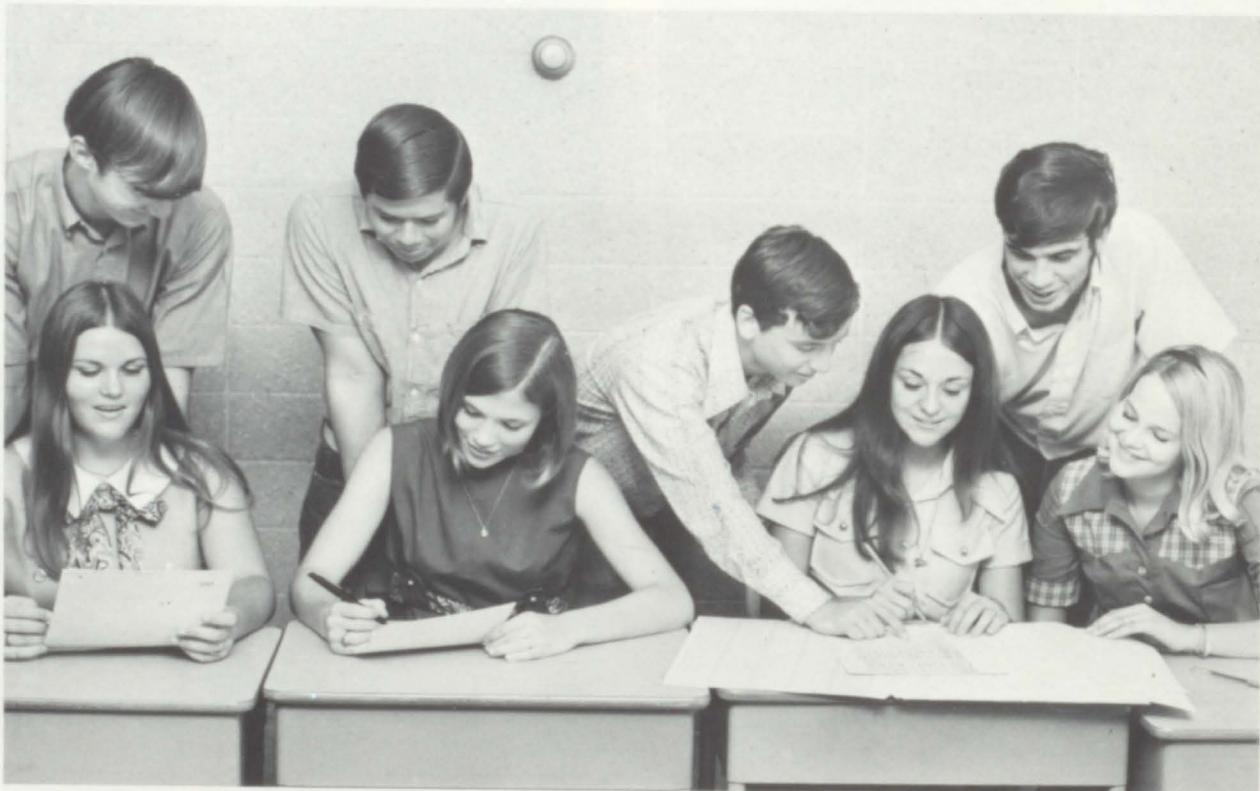

The LARIAT Editorial Staff certainly helped to arouse school spirit by presenting the student body with the first newspaper. Miss Donna Searcy sponsored the staff of ten members. They were Mary Catherine Bounds, Editor-in-Chief; LeAnne Svigel, Managing Editor; Eva Morris, Feature Editor; Danny Carpenter, Joe Prothro, Sports Editors; Dennis Jackson, Phil Whisby, Editorial Editors; Bobby Baucum, News Editor; Kathie Rhinehart, Exchange Editor; Cindy Day, Staff Artist.

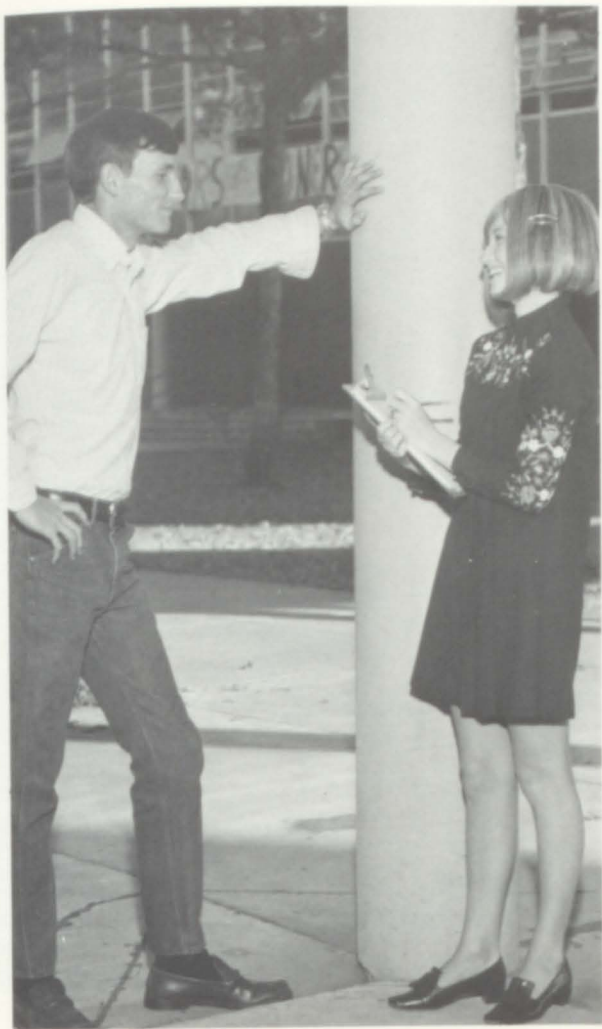

The purpose of the LARIAT was to interpret student life to the school and community. In their efforts to achieve this goal, they were involved each day in a frenzy of activity during fifth period. Always striving to improve, they attended several workshops throughout the year.

LARIAT Reporters Have A Flair For Writing

To become a reporter on the LARIAT, one must be enrolled in a journalism class and possess a flair for writing. In addition to writing interesting news stories, features, and editorials, the group undertook various fund-raising projects to support the paper.

As a result of having stories printed, some were eligible for induction into Quill and Scroll in the spring. Others attained LARIAT editorship.

Circulation Staff Distributes LARIAT

Being the backbone of a business operation takes much responsibility and determination. It takes many people working in a co-ordinated effort toward one common goal. It takes a capable leader and it takes able willing followers. This is exactly what the LARIAT Circulation Staff was. With the guidance of Miss Donna Jo Searcy, this staff successfully delivered and sold the LARIAT each month.

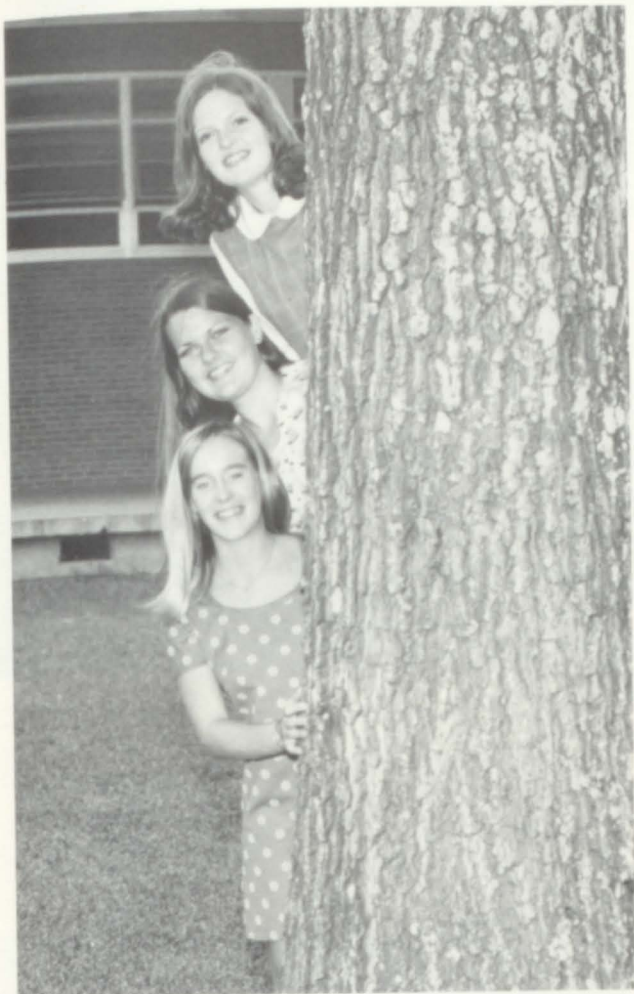

The staff consisted of all the students in Miss Searcy's first period journalism class and those girls who sold over $200 worth of ads.

Invaluable Support Given By Ad Staff

The seven member LARIAT Ad Staff, sponsored by Mrs. Molly Jo Reavis, met at the end of last school year to make plans for selling ad contracts during the summer. After busy months of selling ads, the staff met to plan advertisement layouts for the LARIAT.

The service performed by these girls was invaluable to the support of the newspaper. Attending the Publications Banquet and membership in Quill and Scroll were rewards given to the staff for the services they rendered.

To become a member of the LARIAT Ad Staff, one has to have teacher recommendation along with the approval of the members of the current staff.

Editorial Staff Completes 1971 ROUNDUP

Drawing layouts, cropping pictures and writing body copy occupied the seventeen members of the ROUNDUP editorial staff in a never ending struggle against time to meet deadlines. Upon completion of the task each agreed that the long hours of hard work had produced a comprehensive record of Southwood's first year, which students could value for years.

All was not hard work, however, as staff members enjoyed participating in the NLU Yearbook workshop in Monroe in the summer and traveling to Dallas to visit the Taylor Publishing Company's plant to see how the book is given its final form. ROUNDUP Ad Staff Sells Ads For The Yearbook

The ROUNDUP Ad Staff began its first year under the direction of Miss Jane Jordan. Junior and Senior members were required to have a 2.5 average and a teacher's recommendation.

Members devoted much of their summer to selling ads for the yearbook. Each girl was given a list of firms to approach. After selling their ads the staff had the responsibility of billing the respective businessmen for their ads.

Circulation Staff Sells And Delivers ROUNDUP

For the fifteen Junior and Senior girls who make up the ROUNDUP circulation staff, first period is a time of frenzied activity.

Advertising the four sale dates and recording the receipts after the sales are made is sometimes an almost overwhelming task. The most important and exciting activity occurs in May when the girls distribute the long awaited ROUNDUP. Miss Jane Jordan sponsors the group.

Staff Publishes 68-Page Program

The summer of 1970 was busy for the Football Program Ad Staff and their sponsor, Mrs. Molly Jo Reavis. The first month was occupied with selling advertisements to local business firms. The staff sold 295 ads valuing $5,100. Those who sold the most ads were named managers, and continued to work for the remainder of the summer drawing ad layouts, taking pictures, and billing the buyers. All their hard work and determination paid off in an interesting 68-page program.

Speech Club Hosts "Howdy Night"

The Speech club started the ball rolling for Southwood's first year by hosting "Howdy Night." Because it was the first social affair of the year, the Speech Club members and their advisor, Mrs. Mary Tullie Critcher, worked very hard to make it a success.

Entertaining, however, was not the primary purpose of the club. Searching for reference material, preparing speeches, and going to and working at tournaments all occupied the majority of the members' time.

All one needs to become a member of Speech Club is plenty of spare time, a true interest in speech, and willingness to work.

Audio-Visual Aids Facilitate Teaching

Early in the school year Mrs. Bernice Evans and Mrs. Doyle Sanders trained six students in the proper use and maintenance of audio-visual equipment. Because the services these students rendered helped to make lesson planning easier and classroom presentations more interesting, they were thoroughly appreciated by students as well as teachers.

Skillful Use Of Hands – A Library Must

Of all student volunteers, library assistants seem to depend on their hands most. This year Mrs. Bernice Evans, book librarian, had thirty-six pairs of hands to help her in her everyday tasks. The girls to whom those hands belonged gave up their study halls in order to help students or teachers in any way they could.

Their duties, as exemplified in the four pictures below, included stamping out books, replacing those returned, writing times on library passes, and issuing reminders for overdue books.

Shortly after arriving at school, office workers begin their tasks with collecting absentee cards. After these have been gathered, the names of those absent are typed on the first announcement sheet and the assistants distribute them. In addition to these duties, the helpers in the office check people in and out of school, answer the telephone, take messages and run errands for the principal, assistant principals and counselors. The assistance given by the students is beneficial not only to the faculty, but also to the workers themselves. It gives them experience and an opportunity to be involved in office life.

To foster a more meaningful understanding and appreciation for the family unit was the primary aim of the Future Homemakers of America. Upon completion of a one-year course in home economics, girls are eligible for membership in the group which is sponsored by Mrs. Virginia King and Mrs. Elneita Johnson. Meeting twice each month, the thirty-one girls enjoyed various programs which often included guest speakers. On special occasions they enjoyed appropriate festivities.

Club Entertained By Interesting Speakers

This year's Science and Math Club, with a membership of thirty-five, worked smoothly and efficiently under the guidance of Miss Marie Maranto and Mrs. Ruther Mae Gilliam.

Not only was the club privileged with able and willing officers, but one of the other thirty members achieved celebrity status as well. Joe Le Bleu was chosen to speak at the National Student Science Conference held in Washington.

During the year several interesting speakers from nearby colleges and universities entertained the club. Among these was Dr. Linus Pauling, who discussed his molecular theory. Subjects for other discussions ranged from astro physics and astronomy to the atomic theory.

Promoting interests in science and furthering individual science study were the aims successfully reached by this group.

Club Gains Respect For Spanish Culture

The purposes of Spanish Club were to promote interest in learning the Spanish language and to develop a better understanding of the Spanish speaking people.

In an effort to gain practical experience in handling the language, native Spanish speaking people were invited as speakers for the club. By meeting these people in an informal setting the group gained insight into the language and respect for the people, their customs, and their culture.

Key Club Projects Boost School Spirit

"We Build," the club's motto was proved by their contributions to landscaping our school, collecting for the March of Dimes, and making school calendars.

This year Key Club, consisted of twenty-six members and six sweethearts, and was sponsored by Mr. Johnny Piazza. Members maintained an academic grade average of 2.75.

The sweethearts consisted of three seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore. Their duties included attending the meetings and assisting in the club's activities. These sweethearts were selected by the members of the club.

Z Club Serves School Community And Nation

The dual purpose of Z Club was to serve the school, community, and the nation and to promote fellowship and better understanding among all people of the world.

Activities geared toward achieving that purpose included visiting and presenting programs at local nursing homes, assisting at the Pines Sanitorium, acting as teacher aides at Greenmoor and C-BARC schools, collecting for community fund drives, publishing a monthly paper for the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children and "adopting" and supporting a foreign child.

Membership was limited to girls in the three upper classes. Each was outstanding in character, personality, citizenship, scholarship, and exhibited potential leadership. Members were required to maintain an academic grade average of 2.75. The group was sponsored by Miss Nancy Gephardt.

Interact Sweethearts Work To Raise Funds

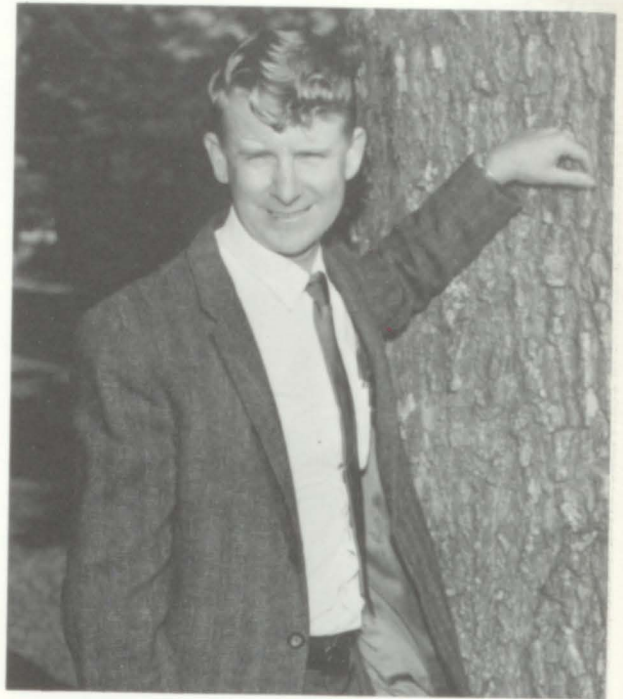

Service to mankind was the goal of Interact, and this goal was evidenced by the club's successful work in the heart and cancer fund drives.

All was not work, however, because members also enjoyed the Key Club-Interact Basketball game, the end of the year banquet and the end of the year camp-out.

Requirements for membership included a "C" grade average, and sophomore, junior, or senior standing.

Nine girls were chosen as sweethearts whose duties included supporting service and fund-raising projects. All members agreed quickly that the girls performed another function as well — promoting morale.

Mr. Robert Hale sponsored the club which met before school each Friday.

Latin Club Promotes Interest In Classics

Many may consider Latin a dead or useless language, but the purpose of the Latin Club is to promote the study of the classics and show their function in the modern world.

Sponsored by Miss Bronwen Webb, the Latin Club was in charge of contests for the state convention in March at New Orleans. In addition to attending the national convention at Oklahoma University, the thirty-four members also enjoyed planning and carrying out several fund-raising campaigns.

Raffle Raised Money To Finance Judging Team

Membership in the Future Farmers of America, an organization which sought to serve the school as well as the community, was limited to those students enrolled in the vocational agriculture course.

The club sponsored a raffle in order to raise money which was used by the judging team to finance trips out of the area where they judged animals. The group was sponsored by Mr. Bruce McKinnon.

"To Make The Best Better"

4-H is a club established to improve the quality of young people through organized, graded competition. Interest in one of two fields, agriculture or home economics, was required for membership in Southwood's chapter.

Mr. Tommy Baxter, sponsor, worked closely with the members in striving to live up to the 4-H motto — "To Make the Best Better."

DECA Members Gain Experience In Job Training

The Southwood chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America was sponsored by Mrs. D. L. Holt and Mr. F. A. Sanders.

Being an active D. E. student, in school as well as on the job, regular school attendance, and having reached the age of sixteen were among requirements which the forty-three members met before they were permitted to participate in the program.

The major objective of DECA was to develop future leadership in the fields of marketing and distributing.

Members participated in all local, state and national conventions as well as the Louisiana State Fair.

Monthly programs provided members an opportunity to hear and meet speakers from the chamber of commerce, the credit bureau and local banks.

Members Of COE Prepare For The Future

Visiting a senior citizen's home, hearing a local banker explain the fundamentals of money and banking, and selecting Miss COE were three activities which the Clerical Office Experience Club members enjoyed this year.

Requirements which the fourteen members met included the successful completion of courses in typing, shorthand and bookkeeping. Only seniors with a "C" average were eligible for membership.

The group was sponsored by Mr. Frank Sanders.

"Les Jeunes Vachers" Sponsors Slave Day

A social and service organization with a membership of seventy, the French Club met twice each month under the direction of Mr. W. B. Rutherford for such stimulating experience as visiting with Jean Petinelli, from the French Consulate.

A field trip to New Orleans, participating in the school carnival, and sponsoring an entrant in the beauty pageant were other activities which involved club members.

French Honor Society, an outgrowth of the French Club, was composed of twelve members who had two years of French and were able to maintain an "A" average.

FTA Provides Practical Teaching Experience

Tutoring students at Greenmoore Elementary School provided practical teaching experience for FTA members when they chose to give up free morning hours to help less fortunate pupils.

Miss Paula Griffith, sponsor of the 71 member club, worked diligently in planning activities for the group which included hosting the Fourth District FTA meeting, participating in a PTSA program, and observing actual classroom situations at LSU-S.

Mary Catherine Bounds brought honor to Southwood by presiding over the Fourth District FTA meeting.

Southwood's First Coaching Staff

JERRY ADAMS
ROBERT RHODES

ED HEARRON
WAYNE TINSLEY

JIMMY WARE
LOWELL MORRISON

JAMES W. CUMMINGS
GROVER COLVIN

The 1970-1971 coaching staff was faced with many trials and problems to overcome. Each one of the staff strived to uphold this philosophy: "Although the coaches are involved in the formation of the athletic program, we believe this to be a small but vital part of the total educational process. This year we began to work toward the development of an athletic program of which the students and community would be proud."

Jerry Adams came to Southwood as the first head football coach after spending ten years as defensive coach for the Woodlawn Knights. Coach Adams gained his college experience playing fullback at LSU and Louisiana Tech.

Taking care of all ticket sales was the duty of Ed Hearron, Business Manager. He also assisted with football and basketball and coached golf.

Jimmy Ware coached freshman football and assisted in varsity track. He played linebacker and guard at Grambling College.

James W. Cummings played tackle and ran track at Langston University. This past year he coached freshman football and freshman basketball.

Robert Rhodes worked with the defensive backs in varsity football. He also served as head baseball coach for the Cowboys. Coach Rhodes played quarterback and slotback at Southern University.

The head basketball coach was Wayne Tinsley. He assisted with the defensive line in football.

At Louisiana Tech Lowell Morrison played quarterback and linebacker. He assisted with the Cowboy offensive backs. Coach Morrison served as Southwood's head track coach.

Once a captain for the Northwestern football team, Grover Colvin played defensive linebacker and offensive guard. He worked with the offensive line as an assistant football coach and assisted with track.

Cowboys Reap Individual Satisfaction . . .

Southwood 0

Natchitoches 14

The first game in the history of the Cowboys ended in a hard-won victory for the Natchitoches Chiefs. Although the Southwood defense came to life midway in the second quarter, it was not soon enough to prevent a dual touchdown lead by the Chiefs.

The first touchdown for Natchitoches came on a follow-up play of a Cowboy punt at the end of the initial quarter of play. Early in the second quarter, the Chief's punter added their second touchdown and kicked for his second extra point that night.

Once more Natchitoches came close to the goal line as a result of an interception of a Charles Kellogg pitchout, but was stopped by the Cowboy's strong defensive line up.

After the two touchdowns, the Cowboys battled the Chiefs to a stalemate in the second half, leaving the score at 14-0 for the remainder of the game.

The best offensive play for the "Pokes" came in the third quarter with a drive from the Chiefs 45 to the 20 yard line. The ball was turned over to Natchitoches when the Chiefs stopped Junior fullback Gene Savoie on the fourth and four.

The Cowboys ended with a net gain of 52 yards rushing, nine yards passing, with an average of 5-3, and three first downs.

Airline 21

The Airline Vikings found the going rough against the rugged Southwood defense, but managed a 21-6 victory by taking advantage of the Cowboy's offensive errors.

Although the fledgling's offensive team did better in their second game, mistakes, including an interception which set the Vikings up for their first touchdown, continued to spot their game.

Southwood's first touchdown in their history was scored in the third quarter on a 28 yard touchdown pass by Buddy Dillman.

The touchdown, scored by end Kenny Richmond, made the score, at that time, a close 7-6. The Cowboys received the ball compliment of William Procell, who recovered an Airline fumble.

Pat Roberts streaked 69 yards for the second Airline touchdown with Kelvin Dunlop scoring the third with a final score of 21-6.

Despite a hard Airline rush, quarterback Buddy Dillman completed seven of twelve passes for 84 yards making a total of 86 yards added with 94 yards rushing and nine first downs.

Southwood's defense, led by William Procell, Ricky Shirley and Steve Coyle held the Vikings to only 140 yards total offense.

Byrd 30

The wind was a strong factor in the Yellow Jacket's homecoming football win against the Cowboys.

A 16 to 0 half time lead by the Jackets dominated Southwood until third quarter when the Cowboys scored six points. Byrd went on to score 14 points in the fourth quarter to make a total score of 30 to 6.

Byrd's junior quarterback threw four touchdown passes and John Gale punted for three extra points and the first score in the game.

After a battle that gave the Cowboys 57 yards, Southwood's junior quarterback, Charles Kellogg, threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Kenny Richmond, narrowing the lead to 16-6. Richmond has been credited with scoring the first two touchdowns in the Cowboy's history.

The Cowboy's single score was scored moments after a 17-yard pass from Kellogg to Savoie in the third quarter.

Southwood had a chance at a second touchdown early in the fourth quarter but fumbled away the opportunity.

Washington 22

After the first two possessions for the Lions, Booker T. Washington came off with a 14-0 lead early in the first quarter.

Southwood waited until just before half, when they started working as a solid unit.

Southwood's offense then drove 93 yards for their first touchdown on an effort by Chuck Ramsey, who took a pass from Buddy Dillman at the Booker T. Washington two.

Soon after a third Booker T. Washington touchdown, the Cowboys scored their second touchdown on a two-yard sneak early in the fourth quarter.

A 13-yard pass from Charles Kellogg to Chuck Ramsey gave the Cowboys their first first-down. Four plays later Ramsey scored on a pass from Buddy Dillman as the half ran out.

The running of Gene Savoie for 16 yards, then 6, then 8, and a 15-yard penalty against the Lions, moved Southwood from the Lion 46 to the two and set the Cowboys up for a Buddy Dillman touchdown. This set the final score of the game down as 22-13, a difficult victory for the Lions.

Southwood had a total of nine first downs, 70 yards rushing and 78 yards passing, making the total offense 148 yards.

Fourteen points in the first two minutes of play made it too tough for the Cowboys to keep up, as the Woodlawn Knights scored 43-0 over the Southwood Cowboys.

On the first offensive play of the game, Woodlawn made a touchdown on a pitchout to Buzz James. An interception got the Knights their second touchdown in the first two minutes of the game.

A second interception came later in the game when Knight Joe Thrash took a deflected throw and headed for the goal. Cowboy Tommy Holman comically put an "end" to his run on the Cowboy 11.

Two plays later, Woodlawn made their third score of the game, and later in the fourth quarter added a safety made by tackling Charles Kellogg, and a fifth and sixth touchdown to make a final score of 43-0.

Southwood's young Cowboys rose up to stop three Woodlawn threats. David Nelson recovered a fumble, Jerry Reeves intercepted a pass with Woodlawn working a second-and-goal, and Ricky Shirley recovered a second fumble.

The Cowboys, who were part of Woodlawn territory until the new school was established, were held down to four first downs, 14 yards rushing, and 28 yards passing.

Linear 8

The Southwood Cowboys won their first game in their young history, when they won out over the Linear Wildcats, 14-8.

Southwood scored the first time they got the ball, moving 66 yards mostly on the consistent short gains of Chuck Ramsey, a junior halfback.

At the beginning of the second period, Buddy Dillman, Southwood's senior quarterback, connected a five-yard toss to Kenny Richmond making the score 14-0 and making Richmond's third touchdown of the season.

Linear also scored in the second quarter, making an extra two points on a pass and reducing the score to 14-8.

In the first half Southwood used a trio of running backs — Chuck Ramsey, Savoie, and Steve Brentz — to attack the Wildcat's tackle and defensive end positions.

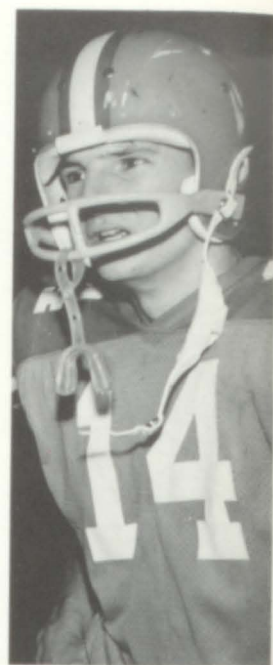

Both teams neutralized each other in the second half with each missing out on opportunities to score.

In statistics, the Cowboys ran 40 times and passed only seven. Ramsey ran for 81 yards in 20 carries for the Cowboys.

Southwood ended the game with 14 first downs, 166 yards on the ground and 18 yards in the air for a total of 184 yards offense.

"Cowpokes" Head South to "Tie" Up Bolton Bears

Bolton 6

Although the score was 42-0 in favor of the older, more experienced Gators, the Cowboys kept butting heads with Captain Shreve as if they were not aware of the lopsided score.

Captain Shreve started off the game with a touchdown four plays after they first got the ball and for the rest of the game it was downhill for the Cowboys. After that first touchdown, Captain Shreve added five more to make six touchdowns and 42 points.

One of the hardest working Cowpokes of the game was Ricky Shaw, playing defensive halfback for the first time. Shaw, a 145-pound freshman, played opposite a 170-pound senior and a 195-pound senior, stopping both in their tracks.

Despite all the efforts of the hard-hitting Cowboys, Southwood had only 39 yards total offense and five first downs. Ricky Herron, a freshman halfback, led Southwood's rushing with 21 yards while Charles Kellogg netted 17 yards passing.

The game took its toll, not only in a loss for the Cowboys, but it also put Jerry Reeves out for the remainder of the season and sidelined Tommy Holman and Fred Gault for a short time.

A trip to Alexandria did nothing to dampen the spirit and ability of the Southwood Cowboys, who made another first by tying the Bolton Bears 6-6.

The first score of the game, was made by Bolton on a five yard run after a 55-yard drive.

After the Bolton kickoff in the second quarter, the Cowboys drove for 60 yards with Ricky Herron scoring from the one-yard line to tie the score. David Nelson's kick failed.

Inspired by the touchdown, Southwood's defense held the Bears for the rest of the game. Tackles Steve Coyle and Gary Slay helped stop the Bears inside the 10 yard line four different times.

The second half of the game was a defensive struggle, with neither team scoring any points and neither coming close enough to score.

Up to this point, Southwood has made seven touchdowns during their first year. Junior end Kenny Richmond made three touchdowns, two on tosses from Buddy Dillman and one from Charles Kellogg. Junior Halfback Chuck Ramsey made one on a pitchout from Dillman, while Ricky Herron, Gene Savoie and Buddy Dillman each made one on short runs up the middle.

Cowboys Battle Indians At End Of First Season

Fair Park 27

Southwood's first annual Football Court saw the season old Cowboys beaten on a 27-7 victory for the Fair Park Indians.

After Fair Park lost the first half kickoff on a fumble and then fumbled away their second possession of the game, it looked like a pretty good night for the Southwood Cowboys as the score was 0-0 at half time.

However, the next time the Indians got the ball, they ripped off gains of 47, 5, and 15 yards to score on a one-yard sneak.

Later in the game the Cowboys, who stayed on the defensive during most of the game, fumbled twice, the Indians recovered both times and upped the score 21-0.

Southwood got on the scoreboard with 3:40 left in the game when reserve running back Leon Jernigan raced for a 45-yard touchdown. David Nelson kicked the extra point raising the score 21-7. This made Jernigan's first touchdown and Nelson's fourth extra point.

A 42-yard David Nelson punt and a 15-yard penalty combined to give Fair Park poor field position in the first half and kept them from scoring until second half.

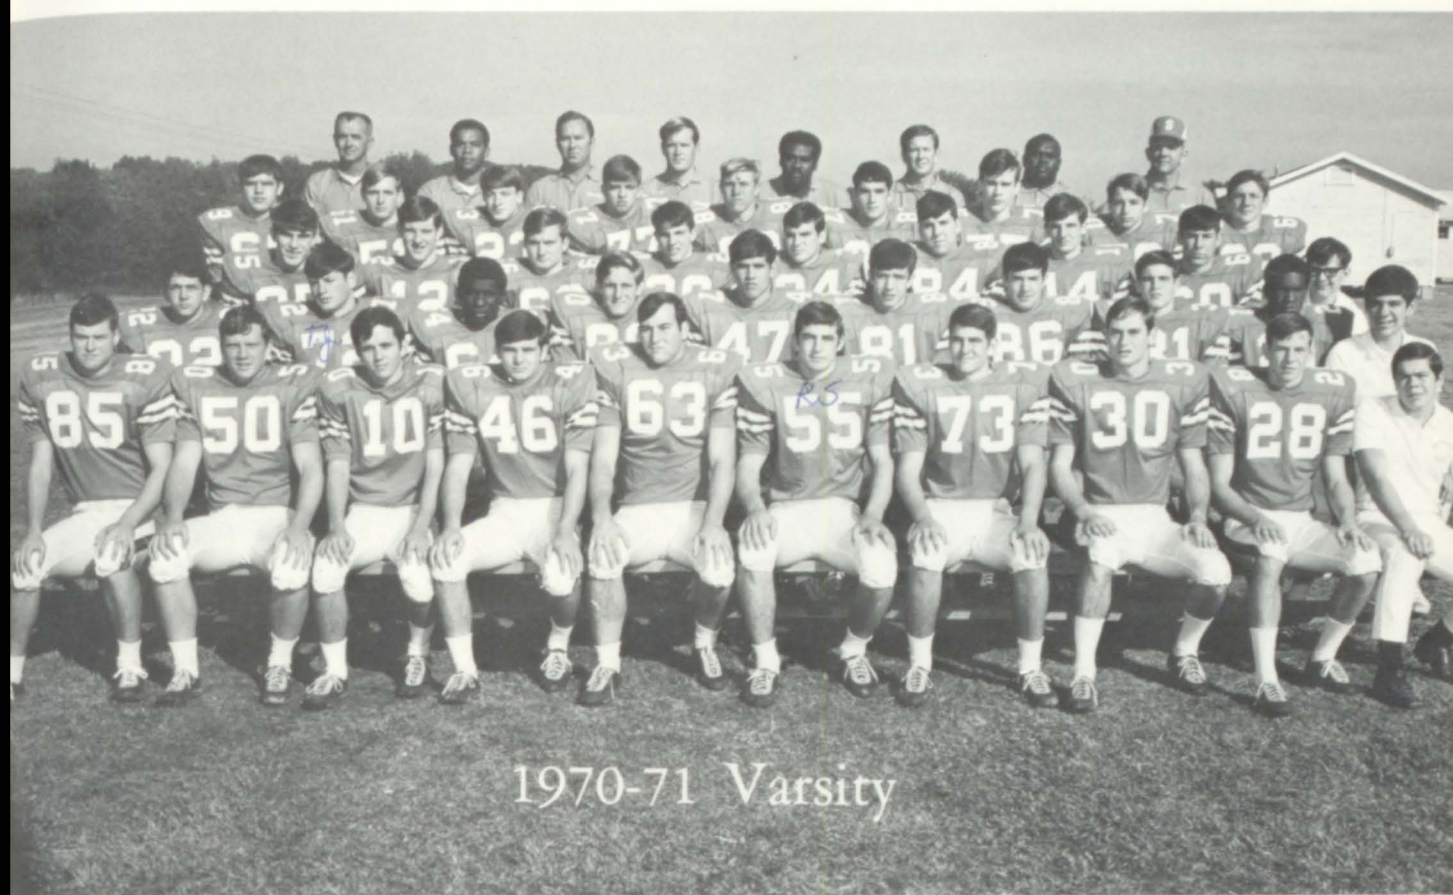

The Cowboys missed two golden scoring opportunities once when they had a first and goal and again on the Fair Park 16.

Best Teacher For Tomorrow's Varsity

Because their uniforms did not arrive until the end of the season, Southwood's ninth grade team was able to play only four games.

The ninth grade team contributed several fine players to the varsity team. Among these were Ricky Herron, Ricky Shaw and Ken Serpas.

In just a few years, the freshman team will be varsity athletes. Although not yet on the team, these boys go through the same vigorous training as the varsity team.

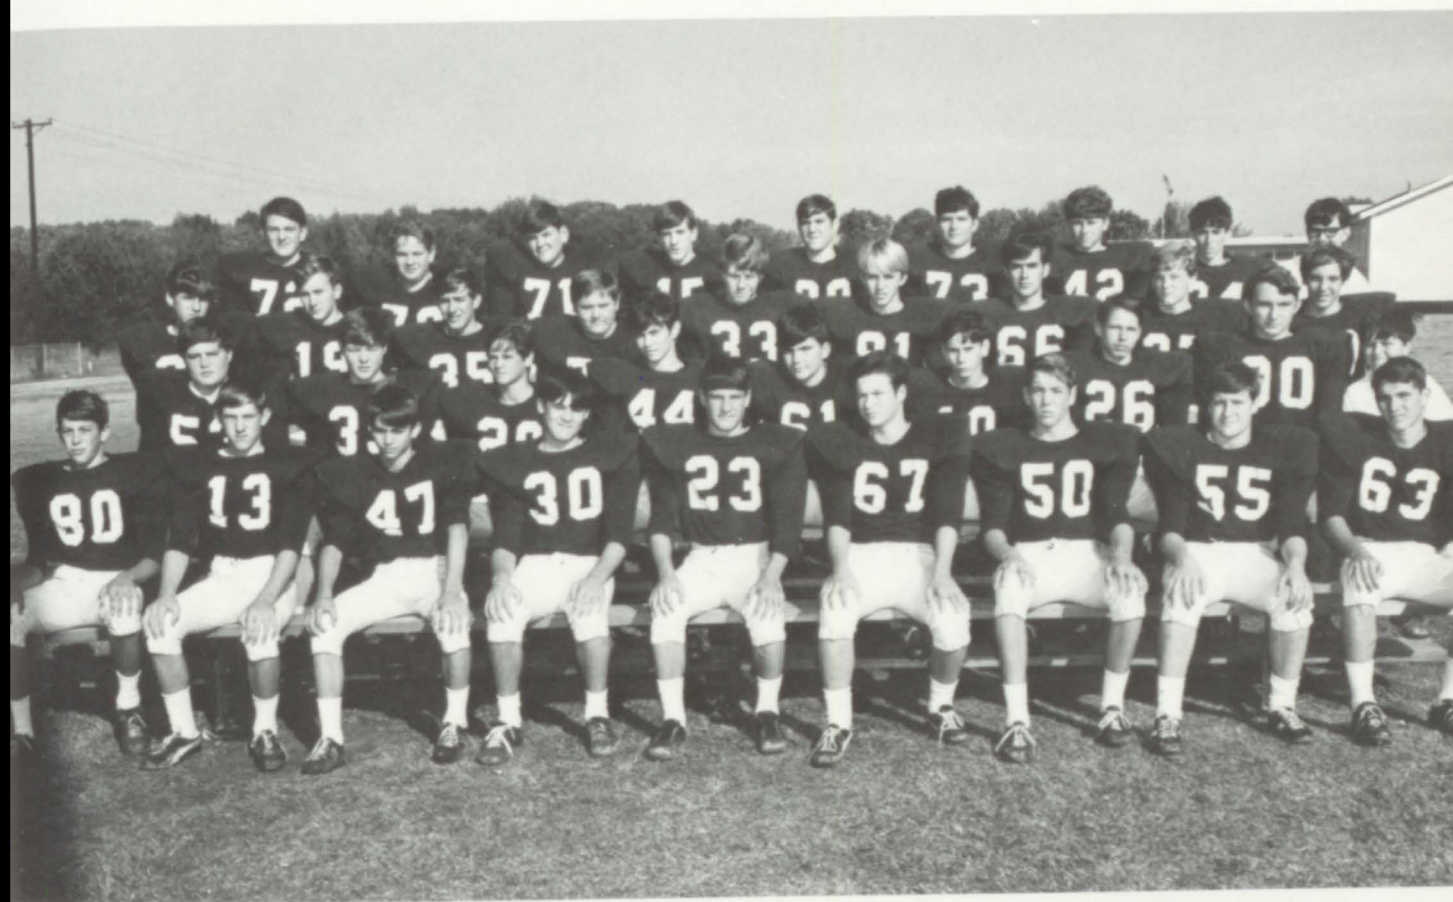

Scrimmages, exercises, and putting new plays into practice are an example of some of the phases of training the boys go through.

Practice every day is required to keep the boys in the kind of condition needed to make top-notch football players.

Experience, agility and the ability to understand and grasp the rules and plays of football are part of the make-up of a good football player.

Some of the exercises they do are the 3-man roll, carioca, directional crab, and the shed drill. Each of these exercises teach the boys to block and move.

Through the efforts of Coach Ware, these boys soon will be ready to play on Southwood's regular varsity team.

Cowboys Ended Season With Victory Over Linear

The Southwood varsity basketball team triumphed over the Linear Wildcats in the last game of the 1971 season. With five seconds left on the clock at Hirsch Youth Center, Harold Ray hit two free throws to give the Cowboys a 48 to 46 victory.

A look at the statistics at the close of the season revealed two victories for Southwood's cage team. In district play the Cowboys posted a 1-14 record.

Coach Wayne Tinsley and Coach Ed Hearron gave excellent guidance to the first-year team. Faced with the lack of experienced players, the two accepted the challenge and worked toward victory. The team and coaches never stopped working and trying, and at the end of the season, the Cowboys witnessed many close games.

High scorer, Robert Davidson led Southwood through many games with a season total of 237 points. Leading in rebounds was Henry Washington, but not only did Washington have 137 rebounds, he was also second in total points with 203. Lonnie Padgett gave excellent performances at each game and supported the highest percentage of free throws made for the season. Senior Harold Ray was invaluable to the Cowboy team. His experience and leadership spurred the Cowboys in many instances. The team was made of many other players, who also worked hard for Southwood.

Perhaps 1971 will not be remembered for a great win-loss record, but it cannot be forgotten that it provided the base for future Cowboy teams. As experience is gained, if future cage teams work as hard as this first varsity did, Southwood may expect many victories.

First Year Trials

With the establishment of a new school, trials must be faced and overcome. The Cowboy team was no exception as it competed for the first time in District 4-A basketball play. The Cowboys had to practice before school many times during the season due to the lack of a gymnasium. The players and coaches spent almost three hours a day practicing, but in competition the Cowboys were hampered by inexperience. A look beyond the season record reveals the true Cowboy team. The coaches provided excellent guidance for the young ball club. The managers kept all equipment in excellent shape. The cheerleaders, pep squad, and other Cowboy supporters showed spirit at all times. The players worked hard and gave their best.

B-Team Showed Diligence

The Cowboy B-Team was coached by Ed Hearron. Coach Hearron and his cagers were faced with the problem of no experienced players at the start of the season. Experience was gained in 1971 and many battles were lost by only a few points.

The B-Team records showed two wins and thirteen losses. The two victories were over Booker T. Washington, with a score of 69 to 44, and Linear, with a score of 45 to 36.

Some members of the B-Team played on the varsity team during the season. These players were Billy Davis, Larry Holder, Louis Jelks, Travis McGlasson, Steve Pugh, and Jimmy Rawls. These players will be playing varsity on the 1972 team.

In spite of the problems, each B-Team player worked hard toward a goal of victory. Practice and competition were difficult, but 1971 was good training for 1972's varsity.

Cheerleaders Symbolize Cowboy Spirit

One of the most awesome tasks any cheerleading group faces is establishing school spirit at the beginning of the school year. Starting from scratch, the job seems staggering. But six young ladies met the challenge, and transformed a listless student body into one that really cared.

How? It wasn't easy. They attended Southern Methodist University for cheerleading training in August, and demonstrated their potential by winning the spirit stick two days in succession and bringing home five blue ribbons. Untold hours were spent in practice and poster making, and pep rally preparations.

They've worked hard, and deserve our praise. LeAnne, Vicki, Carol, Mary Catherine, Betsy and Christy . . . thanks.

Chapparrelles! This is the name chosen by Southwood's first pep squad. Resplendent in their uniforms of orange and blue, seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen comprise this outstanding group.

Remarkable would only describe the girls' zeal, as they all worked hard during the summer vacation on numerous fund raising projects for the purchase of ten new drums. And then there was practice. The main objective was to learn the basic fundamentals of marching and discipline. Countless hours were spent perfecting their half-time routines, yells, and hand drills, with complete uniformity as their goal.

The Southwood Chapparrelles have earned the right to be regarded with respect by their fellow students.

Girls' P.E. Provides Many Opportunities In Sports

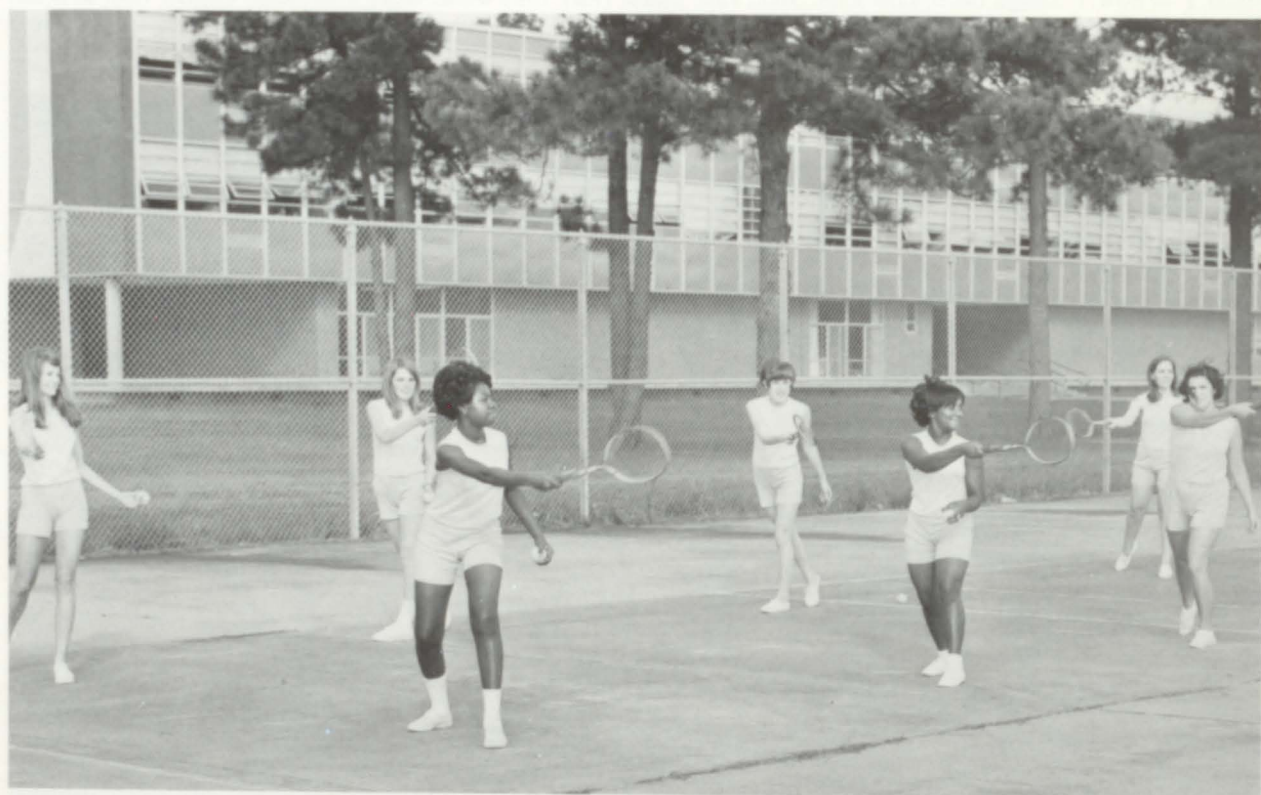

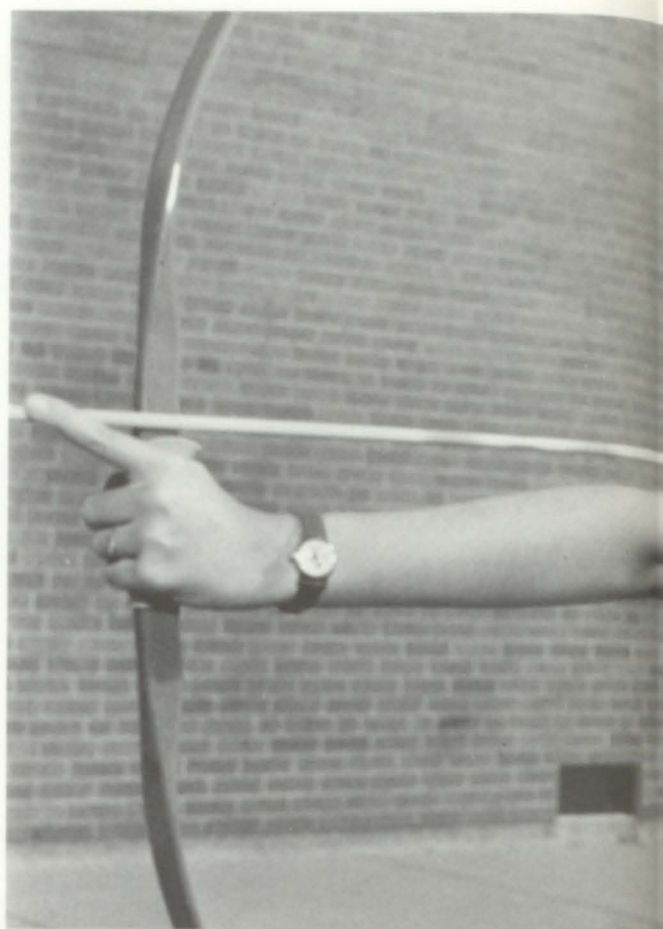

Many very interesting and healthful activities are enjoyed by girls' physical education classes. Basketball, badminton, softball, volleyball, and archery are among many of the activities.

The primary goal of physical education is to teach the girls the rules of good sportsmanship. Competition, exercise, and sportsmanship helped make the girls more well-rounded individuals.

Six weeks of health is required within the program, along with many films and visual aids which are available.

Boys' P.E. Stresses Fitness And Discipline

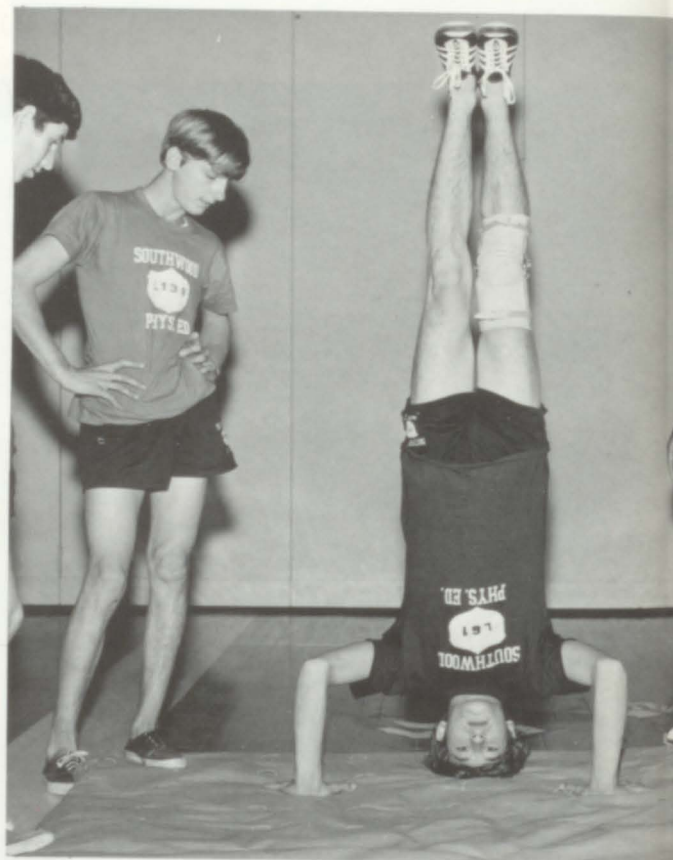

In the world of today, physical fitness plays a major role. This is especially true among our youth.

Physical education was established not only to develop strength and agility of the body, but also to strengthen the mind. This is exemplified in the curriculum which includes not only touch football, baseball and basketball, but also a six-week course in health and first aid.

In Memoriam

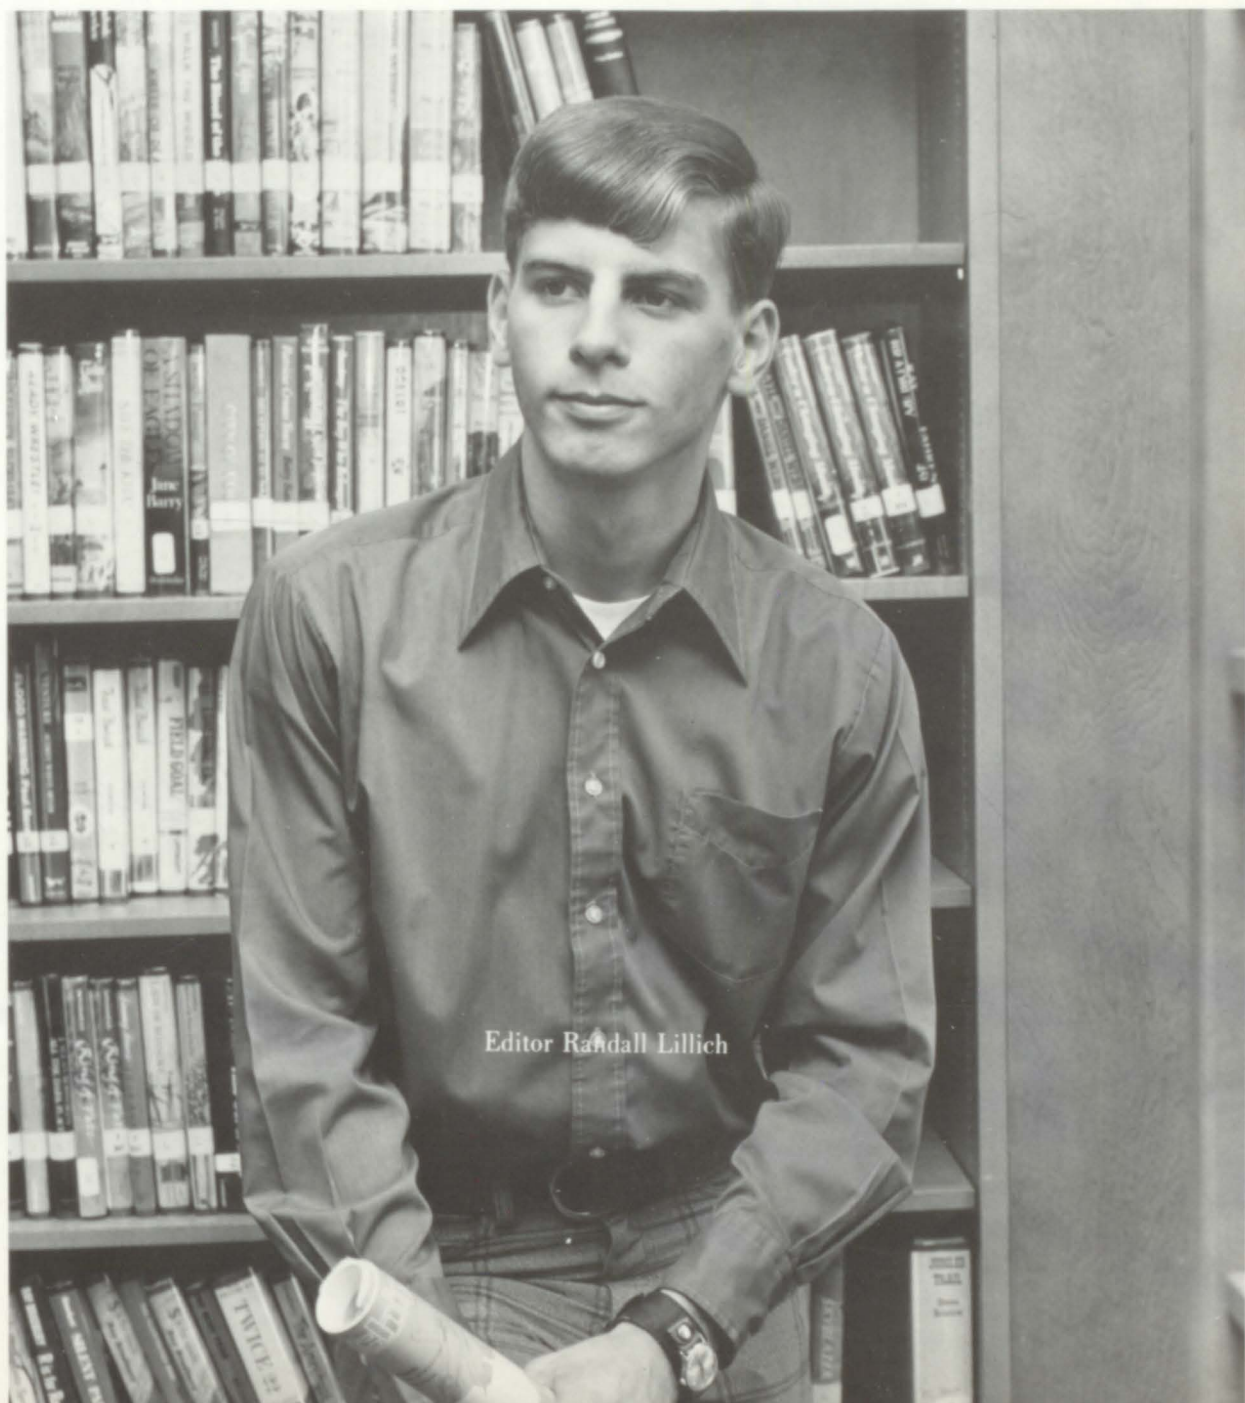

November 27, 1920 Lt. Colonel William L. Taylor December 7, 1970

Roundup Will Be Guide In Future

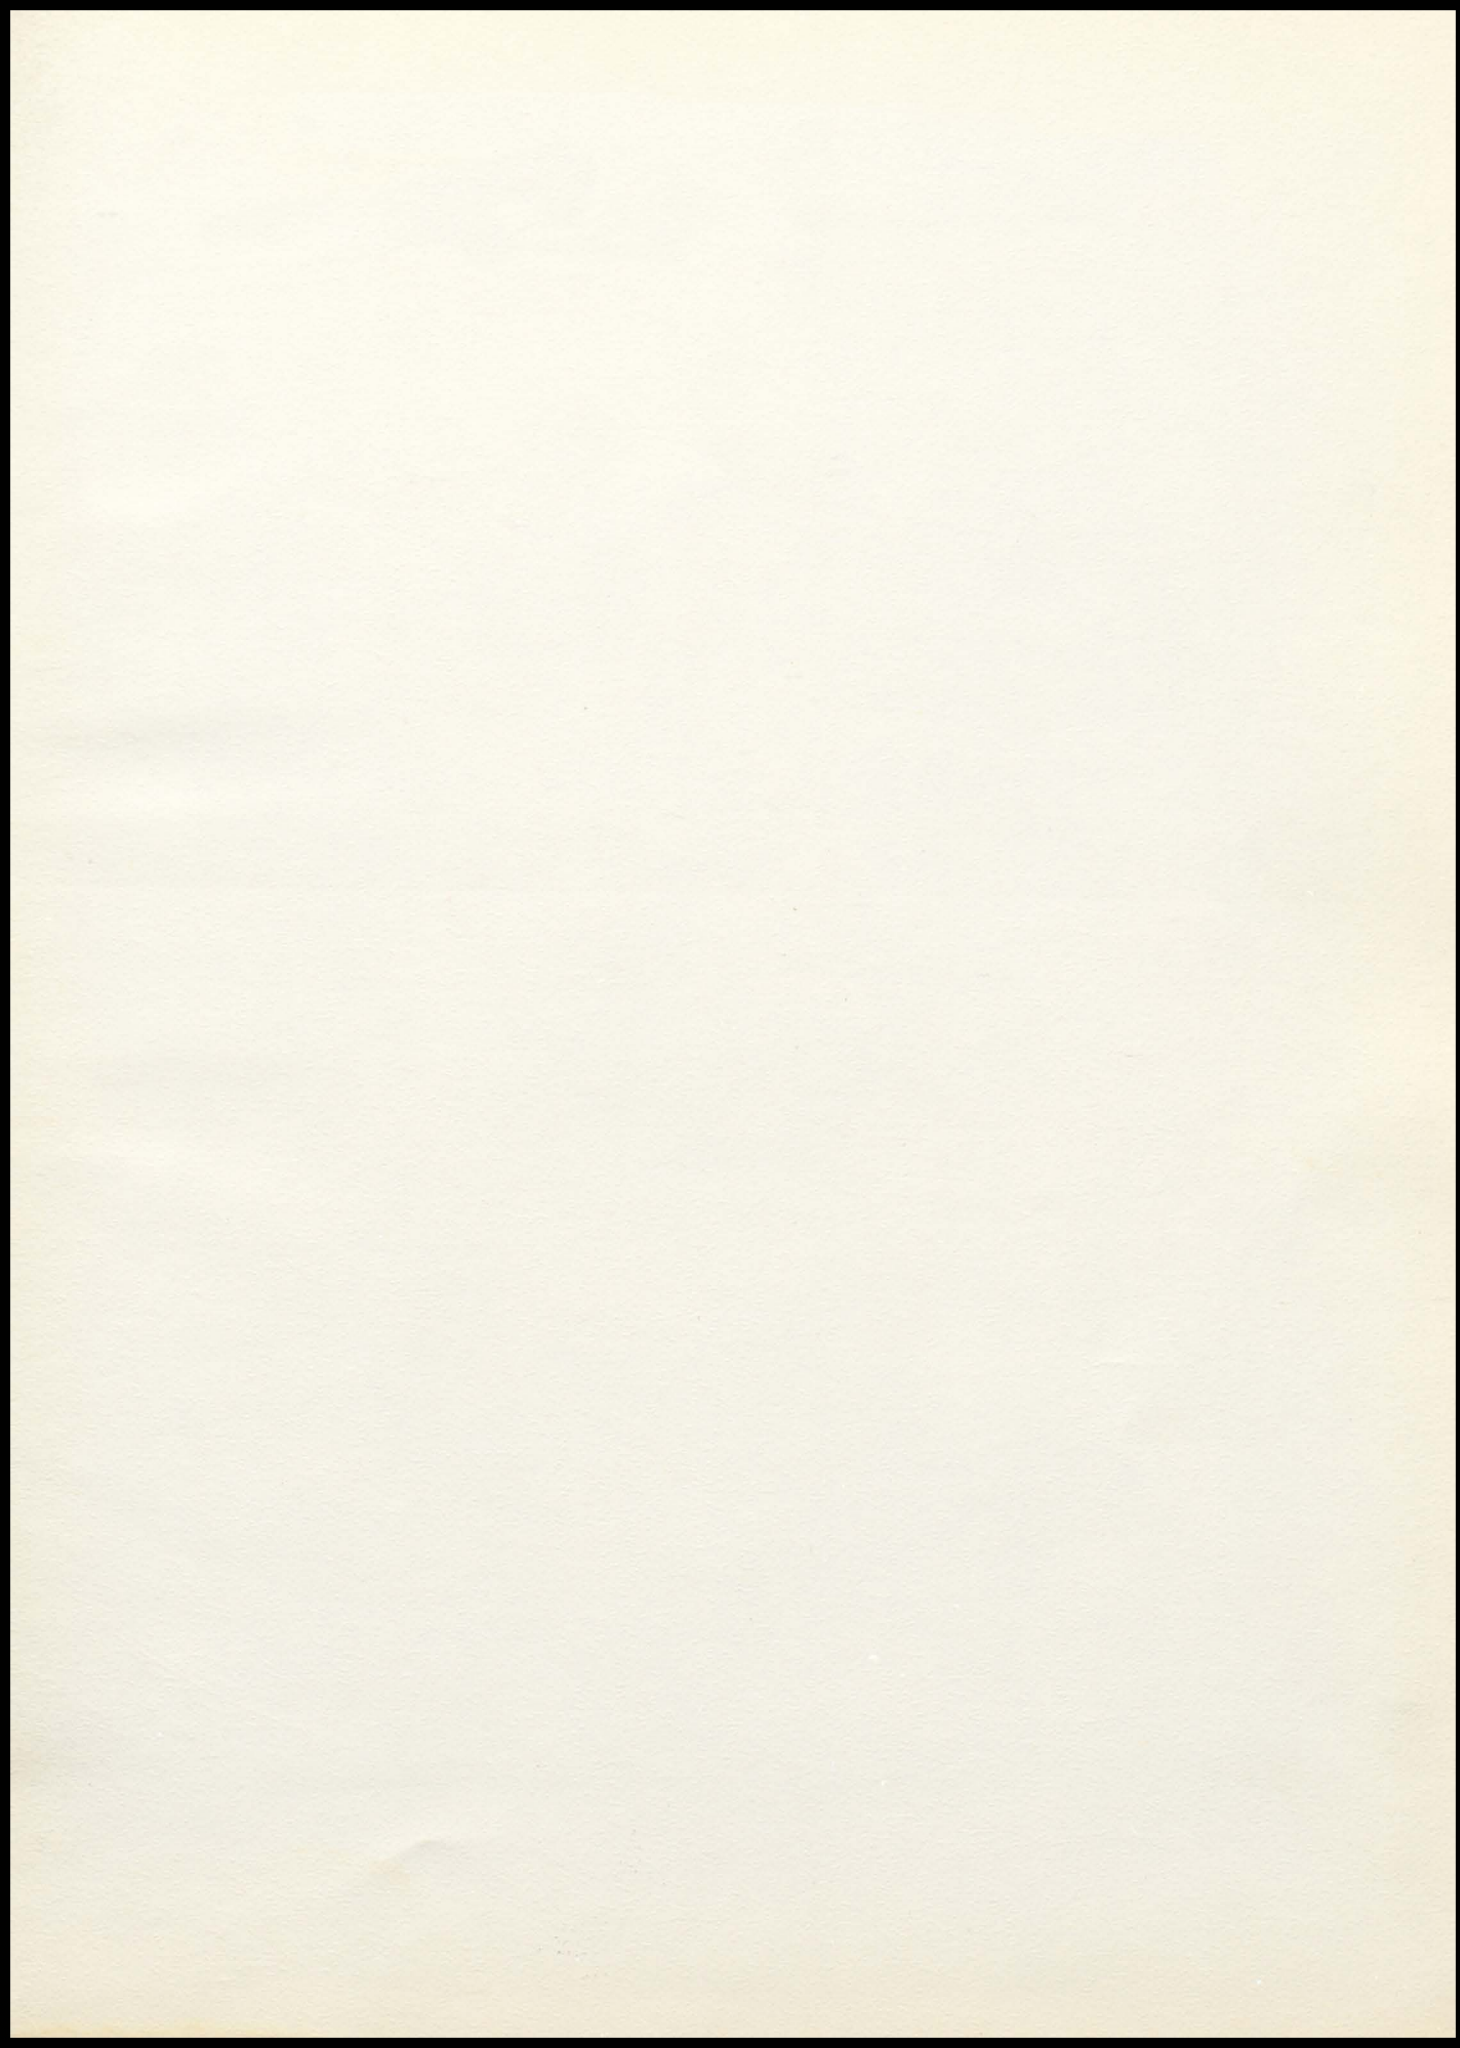

The fine people who were responsible for the making of the first volume of the ROUNDUP sincerely hope that this yearbook will be cherished for its value as a pictorial history of a truly great year. The year of 1970-1971 was one that was filled with exciting, important events. At the end of this year the class of '71 achieved the distinction of being the first to graduate from Southwood.

The first volume of the ROUNDUP was made possible by the hard work of the editorial staff and its two advisors, and by the assistance of several others.

Our thanks go to Mr. Norman Bailey and Mr. Tom Drummond, who were responsible for the photography. We thank the administration of Centenary College for several pictures taken there, and we thank Mr. T. B. Lanford for permitting the use of his residence for the Cotillion Court picture. Thanks also go to Mike Jackson for his time and effort spent in making the Coat of Arms. Finally, we are thankful for the cooperation of every student and faculty member in the making of ROUNDUP, '71.

Editor Randall Lillich
